Marching to Coast

PARIS (AP)—The French night communiqué:

"In the north our troops continued their march toward Dunkerque where part of them were able to embark under protection of the navy and air force despite enemy efforts.

"Beyond a certain activity of the Somme there is nothing to report on the rest of the Somme. "Despite unfavorable atmospheric conditions, our aviation carried out reconnaissances enabling our bombers to harass the enemy in the region of the north and to co-operate in supplying our troops."

Destroy 12 Nazis

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry announced tonight the Royal Air Force had destroyed 12 enemy aircraft and damaged three others. One R.A.F. plane is missing.

Reply to Lindy

Held as Spies

LONDON (CP)—Three persons including the 42-year-old German wife of a Royal Air Force sergeant—were held tonight for trial, charged with conspiring to get British military secrets for the German high command.

Mrs. Mary Ingram, domestic in the home of a naval officer, admitted having a brother in the German high command, the prosecutor said. The others arrested were William Swift and Archibald Watts.

BREAK BY ITALY

LONDON (CP)—Authoritative circles tonight said Italy had intimated on Tuesday that she considered British-Italian negotiations over contraband control were broken off.

This indication was said to have been given despite agreement in principle reached last week for an easing of contraband control against Italian ships.

PARIS (CP-Havas)—Leopold III, King of the Belgians who capitulated to the Germans, will be dismissed from the Legion of Honor in a decree to be issued tomorrow, it was learned tonight.

Hands Off Liner!

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department, disclosing a general exodus of United States citizens from the Mediterranean area, cautioned belligerent governments today not to molest or delay the liner Washington in its forthcoming effort to bring American citizens home from Bordeaux, France and Lisbon, Portugal.

The belligerents were informed that the Washington, which left New York yesterday, was proceeding without convoy.

Plot in Eire

LEEDS, Eng. (CP)—A Nazi plot to overthrow Prime Minister Eamon de Valera and land parachute troops in Eire was reported late today by the diplomatic correspondent of the Yorkshire Evening News.

Manitoban Missing

SOURIS, Man. (CP)—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Graafstra of this town 250 miles west of Winnipeg, said this afternoon they had received a cable from the British Air Ministry announcing that their son, Flying Officer Jack Graafstra of the Royal Air Force, was missing as a result of air operations May 23.

Arrested in British Fifth Column Drive

England is taking no chances by allowing alien women the freedom of the country. Here is a group, rounded up in London, under guard of soldiers and matrons and on the way to an internment camp "somewhere in England." Passed by British censor and cabled to New York. (Acme cable telephoto).

Betrayed by King, Honor Unknown Soldier

Upset by King Leopold's surrender, Belgian refugees and officials in Paris place wreaths on France's tomb of the unknown soldier. They carry protest signs saying, "Long Live Albert," and "Refugees today, soldiers tomorrow." (Acme radio telephoto).

MOVE TO REPLACE KING COLLAPSES

By BRUCE HUTCHISON
OTTAWA—Ever since the disaster of the Low Countries, this capital has watched a move to oust Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King and replace him with Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of Finance.

Today it can be said definitely that the move has collapsed. The Liberal Party intends to put on record publicly its tacit decision that Canada must fight the war under Mr. King. In the near future a formal vote of confidence in the government will be moved to test the feeling of the House of Commons and to show the country that the Liberal Party is absolutely united.

It is expected Col. Ralston will use this opportunity to repudiate the move among the Conservative Party to elevate him to the Premiership.

Suicide Denied

PARIS (CP-Havas)—A French military spokesman today denied reports (apparently originating in Switzerland) that General Marie Gustave Gamelin of France, former Allied commander-in-chief, had committed suicide and that General Andre Corap, commander of the French army on the Sedan front when the Germans broke through, had been executed.

Christen Destroyers

BOSTON (AP)—Two new 1,630-ton destroyers, the U.S.S. Nicholson and the U.S.S. Wilkes, were christened today at the Boston Navy Yard. The vessels, which cost approximately $5,500,000 each, brought to a total of four the number of similar type craft completed at the yard in the past month.

100,000 New Men For Indian Army

SIMLA, India (CP-Reuters)—General Sir Robert Cassels, commander-in-chief of the army in India, announced today 100,000 additional men will be enrolled in the Indian army and that the Indian air force will be quadrupled.

Gen. Cassels said the present situation in France indicated "a definite danger" of a spreading of the war which "might mean India," would cease to enjoy immunity from enemy action.

The new Indian army formations, the general added, would include motorized and mechanized units.

The Indian Army now includes about 240,000 native troops, including reserves, and 57,000 British troops.

Some Indian troops have been sent to France, Palestine and Egypt.

Stop Hysteria

LONDON (CP)—A nationwide plan to enlist a "Mr. Sensible" in every street to maintain public morale in the event that radio broadcasting and newspaper circulation are disrupted by bombing or invasion was announced today by Sir Wyndham Deedes, information officer for London.

The plan envisages local "agents of reassurance" responsible for posting reliable news bulletins in streets and "allaying public fears, stimulating public effort for victory and giving advice and exhortation."

Canadian Flier Safe
WINNIPEG (CP)—Reported missing earlier this week, Pilot Officer Jack Benzle, 25-year-old member of the Royal Air Force, has been admitted to the emergency hospital in Southampton, Eng., suffering from wounds, according to word received here by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Benzle.

H.M.S. CURLEW LOST OFF NORWAY

LONDON (CP)—An official statement today said:

"The Secretary of the Admiralty regrets to announce the loss of H.M.S. Curlew. (An anti-aircraft cruiser commanded by Capt. E. C. Brooke) sank as a result of a bombing attack some days ago off the north coast of Norway.

"During recent successful operations in the Narvik area His Majesty's ships have been heavily engaged in bombarding enemy positions on land, and in protecting occupied coastal areas and convoys. They have been exposed to incessant bombing attacks, in the course of which many enemy aircraft have been destroyed.

"The confined and dangerous waters off these coasts restrict the freedom of movement so greatly that occasional losses are inevitable.

"It was while engaged in these most arduous operations that H.M.S. Curlew was struck by bombs and subsequently sunk. Difficulty experienced in ascertaining the names of survivors has prevented this announcement from being made before. It is now established that four officers and five ratings lost their lives and the next of kin have been informed."

The Curlew, specially armed with 10 four-inch anti-aircraft guns, was the second cruiser lost in the war. The first was the Eflingham, sunk after striking a rock in Norwegian waters.

The Curlew, of 4,290 tons, was built as a light cruiser, part of the emergency program of the last war, being completed in 1917. She was reconstructed and re-armed for anti-aircraft work in 1935. She had an overall length of 450 feet and a beam of 43½ feet. Her normal complement was 400.

90,000 of Flanders Force Now in Britain

Abbeville Cleaned Up As Thousands Embark

PARIS (AP)—A War Ministry spokesman tonight said the northern Allied troops are withdrawing through Dunkerque "on a large scale."

This exodus to the coast went on, he added, after the central French armies, taking advantage of the German drive to the north, had "completely cleaned up" the Abbeville sector.

The spokesman said "important" embarkments at Dunkerque which had begun last night were still going on.

The inundation around the port city has reached an average depth of a foot, proving an effective barrier to the German columns trying to smash that Allied port of exit.

The French rearguard in Flanders nevertheless was said to be "in difficulties."

Ground Recaptured At Small Cost

The Abbeville clean-up was effected after days of Allied operations which had yielded several hundred German prisoners and many weapons and supply trains.

The French estimated their losses there at only a few men killed and one tank destroyed.

Earlier, the spokesman had said he could not confirm the recapture of the town of Abbeville itself.

The air above Dunkerque has been "literally forbidden" to German planes by the hot fire of naval anti-aircraft guns co-operating with British pursuit squadrons operating from bases in England, a few minutes away, a French military spokesman said.

Every Hour Brings B.E.F. Men Home

By FRED BACKHOUSE
A SOUTHEAST COAST PORT IN ENGLAND (CP)—Every hour, in craft of all shapes and sizes, tens of thousands of men of the British Expeditionary Force with French comrades are being landed safely at ports on the south coast of England in one of the quickest movements in British military history.

(London dispatches stated reliable sources estimated today that a total of about 90,000 British, French and Belgian troops had been landed in England from the Flanders battle ground.

About two-thirds of these are Britons. The total figure, 90,000 is approximately one-half the original strength of the British Expeditionary Force of 175,000 in Flanders. Hence about one-third, or 58,000, of the original British force is estimated by these sources to be safely home.

(There are no figures on total British or Allied casualties. (However, both French and British sources estimate the German killed and wounded at about 500,000.)

Grimy and exhausted Tommies said that when they arrived at the coast, fishermen—many of them old salts of 70—volunteered to a man to take their tiny unarmed boats across the Channel. One lifeboat was promptly put to sea with men over 60 aboard. As more blood-stained and tattered troops landed, private motorboat owners hurried to "help out." Officially nothing was done about them. Unofficially they went.

SHIPS, TUGS AND BARGES

At one period of the day seven ships docked at a south coast port in less than two hours. The men chambered into trains and were whisked away to bases in various parts of England within half an hour of landing.

At another port a tug came in pulling five barges packed with troops. Many of the evacuation craft had been bombed and machine-gunned for hours. But backwards and forwards they ferry. One crew made five trips in 24 hours.

And, as the undented khaki-clad boys came ashore, their wives gladly handed over food from their larders when official supplies ran short. On one platform stood a bride-to-be carrying up her wedding cake to hand to the hungry troops.

Troops Defy Blizzard of Bombs

One soldier said German bombers raiding the Allied troops with drawing in Flanders "attempted to pursue our ships right up to the harbor."

"I never expected to get back alive," he said. "Our work was carried out in a blizzard of bombs and machine gun bullets. Jerry attacked in waves every 10 or 15 minutes. Still they kept coming. The fun began when we were

Allied Forces Entrenched at Dunkerque

French Divisions Fight Way To Sea as Supplies Landed

PARIS (AP)—Two divisions of the French rearguard for the Allied retreat from Flanders have reached Dunkerque. It was announced at this afternoon's ministry of information press conference.

These divisions, numbering 30,000 men in all before they underwent the shattering attack in Flanders, were said to have entered the channel town as German armored columns slashed around it.

The situation for the French troops still inside the Nazi pocket, with German infiltrations threatening them, remained "grave but not desperate," the spokesman said.

Break in Line Advances French

With the "Line of Mounts" salient, which the Germans established yesterday, fractured, the French apparently held an advantage for maintaining the breach.

The division, commanded by Gen. Rene Prioux, battered a path part way through the German lines of envelopment during the night and completed the retreat in daylight.

A ministry of information spokesman said Prioux' men fought a "marvelous battle" and their losses are "relative" rather than "catastrophic."

French and British warships rushed the evacuation of the weary, war-torn units which had been fighting off furious Nazi onslaughts.

At the same time, the vessels landed new food and war supplies for French divisions still fighting at the southern end of the corridor to the sea.

The Prioux units, a military spokesman said, reached Dunkerque with war equipment which they succeeded in saving from the Germans.

ing to the latest reports available here.

The eastern wall of the escape corridor was held by part of the British army and one French division along the Yser Canal line.

The defence line runs approximately from Lombartzyde through Nieupo, passes eastward to the vicinity of Dixmude and then south in the direction of Ypres.

The western wall where the British have been reinforced by several French formations and parts of the French mechanized units runs from the coast west of Dunkerque clear to the western end of the line of mounts near Cassel. It descends to the west of Bergues, but veers off around Cassel, where the Germans yesterday took the mount of the same name.

The army under General Prioux apparently was operating in two sections. One broke through the thin German line from Cassel to Poperinghe which the Nazis established temporarily yesterday. The other units were drawing back in their area.

The spokesman said Dunkerque was holding solidly, strongly entrenched by French and British forces. He based his statement on "good news" received during the night, including word of arrival of French troops at the port.

Germans' Losses 5 Times Allies'

LONDON (CP)—British soldiers from Flanders passing through London said they had inflicted five casualties for one on the Germans, but the cry on nearly every man's lips was "for God's sake give us more air planes."

British and French soldiers everywhere demonstrated their superiority over the German ground forces, the returning men said.

With the Tommies were a number of Auxiliary Territorial Service girls.

Women Take Tickets

about six miles off the coast. That's where we had to run the gauntlet. . . . Though the Royal Air Force constantly was taking a tremendous toll of Nazi planes, English soil looked mighty good."

MOST WOUNDED MOVED

As the streams of battle-scarred Tommies, French and Belgian comrades, continued to pour into reception ports today, it was noticeable there were fewer wounded among them. This indicated the majority of the casualties had been given precedence in the retreat and embarkation.

Bakers and Volunteers Given Busy Time

While the men waited to board the long troop trains ready to speed them to the haven of the flowering English countryside, bakers worked overtime providing food. Women volunteers regardless of fatigue and long hours, cut mountains of sandwiches and served rivers of tea at makeshift canteens for men who hadn't had a square meal for nearly a week and only snatches of sleep for the last two weeks.

It was announced today that the battle-worn thousands will be given a well-earned rest. A short leave will enable the military authorities to get them reassembled.

Naval crews who brought men to England were as tired as the troops and had to be relieved on arrival.

To Widen Road At Cameron Lake

The Cameron Lake section of the Parksville-Alberni Highway will be widened and straightened this summer, Hon. C. S. Leary, Minister of Public Works, announced today.

Following a recent personal inspection of the road and discussions with civic leaders in the Alberni, Mr. Leary said he thought improvement of this piece of road, one of the most necessary undertakings on the island.

At Cameron Lake the highway winds narrowly around a rock bluff, constituting a considerable hindrance to traffic. The approaches from both sides have been widened and improved in recent years and the Cameron Lake section is a bottleneck.

The department, said the minister, plans to blow off some of the rock bluff, bulldoze out part of the cliff and straighten the highway so that it will have a maximum of a 10 per cent curve. An old bridge will be replaced by a fill.

Improvement of the Cameron Lake road has been requested repeatedly by Boards of Trade and community organizations in the district. Mr. Leary noted that when the new pulp mill at Port Alberni goes ahead travel over the road probably will increase greatly and the widening of the highway will be imperative.

Mr. Leary also announced immediate start on the surfacing of the new King George Highway from the Pattullo Bridge to the U.S. boundary. The minister received word from Premier Pattullo in Ottawa that, apart from the province's general request for assistance on a $2,000,000 road program, money will be forthcoming for this main road.

Oiling of 100 miles of the Big Bend Highway from Revelstoke to Golden began today. Official opening of the Big Bend is set for June 29.

3 Trotsky Guards Held By Police

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Police announced today that three of Leon Trotsky's secretary-bodyguards had been detained for "questioning" in connection with the recent attempt by machine gunners to kill the Russian exile.

It also was learned that a cook and chambermaid at the Trotsky villa in suburban Coyocacan had been questioned. Police said they had given "very helpful" information which, however, could not be divulged.

At least 20 men, disguised as police and armed with machine guns, rifles and incendiary bombs, attacked the Trotsky home May 24, pouring a machine gun crossfire into Trotsky's bedroom. He was slightly injured by flying glass and splinters.

Trotsky and his wife feigned death and the attackers fled, taking with them one of the several secretary-bodyguards, Sheldon Harte of New York. He has not been found.

TORONTO (CP)—A campaign to raise at least $1,000,000 by public subscription so Toronto citizens may purchase bombers, tanks and other essential war equipment for shipment overseas has been started by the city board of control. Mayor Ralph Day invited citizens who wish to aid the Allied cause to donate as much as possible to the fund.

B.E.F. to Reassemble After Rest in Britain

A SOUTHEAST COAST PORT IN ENGLAND (CP)—A lieutenant-commander in charge of one of the naval vessels which brought troops of the British Expeditionary Force home from Flanders said:

"I don't think we have a crumb of food or even a cup of cocoa left in the ship. My men have been magnificent—uncomplaining in the face of bombing and machine gunning. We are quite determined that not a man shall be left behind for want of a ship."

One of the French soldiers among those brought to English shores said that, in the withdrawal toward the coast, "we were machine gunned so often we almost got used to it."

"We always were ready to jump into the nearest ditch to avoid German planes sweeping low and mowing down refugees and others indiscriminately," he continued. "Always there were some who did not rise again. One almost gets used to that, too."

One French soldier reaching safety said he and 21 comrades were in a French ship which struck a magnetic mine and sank. He alone was rescued. Some rescued men were in such a state they had to be met at the ship with uniforms before they could land.

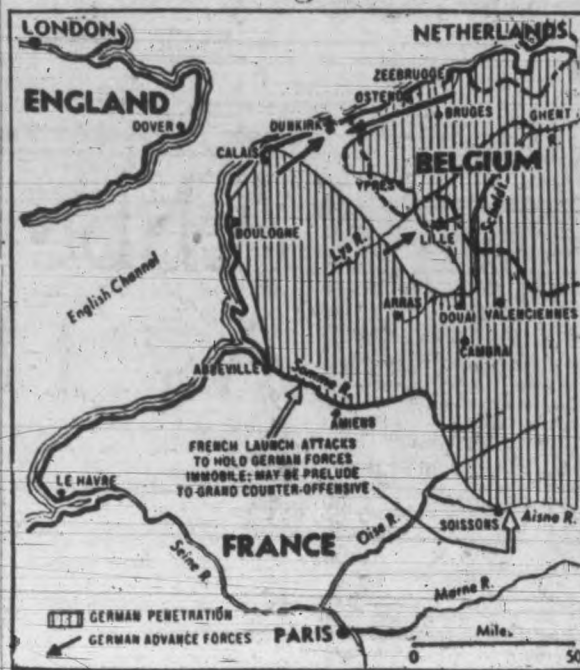

With a large proportion of the B.E.F.—its members proclaiming their spirit unbroken after braving hell and high water—withdrawn from the Nazi death trap in Belgium and northern France the operation was described as one of the greatest rearguard actions in military history.

Destroyed Supplies To Foil Enemy

"Before our troops made their retreat," said a British officer, "they had in almost every case succeeded in blowing up gasoline dumps and leaving nothing useful to the enemy. They stayed to do this at the risk of capture or being shot."

The Tommies said word of the surrender of the Belgian army

Allies Hold Finger of Land

Today's German slashes at the Allied armies of the north are mapped above, as the Nazis report capture of Ostend, Lille, Ypres and other strategic points. Dunkirk remains the main port for the evacuation of Allied troops.

New Zealand Now Has Power To Conscript All

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP)—The New Zealand Parliament today passed through all legislative stages the government's Emergency Powers Act providing for compulsory military service, and giving the state authority to conscript all the Dominion's resources.

The measure, announced yesterday in the Speech from the Throne read by Viscount Galway, Governor-General, at the opening of Parliament, is along lines similar to those of the British Emergency Powers Act.

The introduction of conscription in the Dominion, both for overseas service and for home defence, arises not through a lack of volunteers but because it is considered fairer.

The bill gives the government power to conscript men and material without limit, but there has been no indication of the extent to which the government proposes to use these powers immediately. Prime Minister Peter Fraser told Parliament that they will be used when required and that there is no intention to rush things.

He said it was not proposed the government should conscript industrial plants without plan, because this would only lead to confusion. However, he said the urgency of the crisis had made it impossible efficiently to prosecute the war without compulsion.

STILL VOLUNTEERING

The date of making conscription effective will depend on the numbers volunteering. The Labor government normally would be against conscription, but it now takes the view the country is fighting for its very life.

Finance Minister Walter Nash said the workers must surrender conditions built up during the past 50 years and that every rule, regulation and law would be swept away for the duration of the war. He gave assurances that nobody would make a farthing of profit from the community's sacrifices.

The opposition National Party favors the measures on the condition that a coalition government be formed.

Prime Minister Fraser proposed formation of a war council charged with all matters affecting the war effort, to be comprised of representatives of the government and opposition, industry and the trades unions, and farmers. The opposition rejected the proposal, claiming the council would have no real power.

Prime Minister Fraser announced Parliament will meet in secret session June 5 to discuss the war.

Spring migrations carry some 60,000,000 waterfowl northward to breeding grounds in Alaska, Canada and northern United States.

to screen the troops was possible. The din was incredible. Shells were falling in a mathematically straight line behind our positions.

"Above and behind the line British planes dived and dropped a hail of bombs. Jerry never had a chance to get at us. I take off my hat to the chaps who did that job."

Nazis Throw Away Their Men's Lives

Many of the survivors had to swim to the ships through a hail of bomb splinters. But one of their officers declared:

"Our losses in the last few days have been far less than might have been expected. But the slaughter among the Germans has been incredible. The German commanders seem to be throwing away their men's lives."

With the return of B.E.F. survivors the word "Hun" is being used for the first time since the war started. One soldier, telling of German bombing and strafing attacks on Belgian refugees, said:

RECOUNT ATROCITIES

"There was no excuse for that. I'll never forget the way those Huns treated the refugees."

Another soldier said fleeing refugees hampered the movements of Allied troops throughout. He added: "The Germans drove tanks right over them, caring nothing for men, women or children. It was mass murder in the first degree."

WANT MORE PLANES

Tough Cockneys who insisted they would be returning to France at the first opportunity, declared all they wanted was "more airplanes and it will be a different story."

Still so deafened from the din of battle that they scarcely could hear, they told how Nazi bombers swarmed over the battlefields 50 and 60 at a time. One of them remarked:

"We almost got used to the bombs, and our casualties were surprisingly small considering the number of bombs that were dropped."

Treason in Belgium

PARIS (AP)—A French military spokesman today declared German military successes in Belgium were "directly due to treason."

"Without this treason," he said, "we would most probably still be fighting on the line of the Albert Canal."

He spoke of an incident in which only one officer knew how to blow up a bridge which the Nazi forces were able to cross over the Belgian canal fortifications.

"It is unbelievable" that no one under that officers' command of 50 men knew how to blow up the bridge, the spokesman said, adding: "Anyway, the French soldiers who attributed the German advances to the French command's mistakes now know where to place the blame."

Defeat Changed To Achievement By Withdrawal

LONDON (CP)—Commentators and editorial writers in the London Press today hailed the British Expeditionary Force's withdrawal from Dunkerque as one of the most glorious operations in military history. The Chronicle's military writer said the troops converted a great defeat into a great achievement. This writer said: "No military expert would have dared prophesy a few days ago that so many men would be saved after so many of their lines of communication had been cut."

The Express said "no country has the right to ask for such heroism as our fighting men have freely given. The B.E.F. carried out the greatest rearguard action ever fought in history."

The paper's cartoon showed a Veteran of Mons, now an air raid warden, reading a paper with the headline "Tens of thousands safely home already" and commenting: "And we thought we were pretty tough."

SEAPOW PROVED
The Times printed a letter from Sir Archibald Hurd, naval authority, saying seapower had held off every tyrant in the past, and was yet to be proved that airpower can effect the final issue of this war.

The Times' editorial said the real struggle is for domination of the sea and the magnitude of the enemy's effort shows he is under no illusions that Allied seapower is the chief obstacle to his ambition of world domination. "Sea power, with its citadel defended by the navy itself, by superb squadrons of the Royal Air Force, by a network of well-designed, well-manned ground defences and—not the least important—supported by firm civilian determination, will not be shaken and so long as it is maintained, Britain and France must prevail in the end," said The Times.

R.A.F. Joins Fleet In Mediterranean

ALEXANDRIA (CP)—The Allied battle fleet in the eastern Mediterranean has been joined in practice manoeuvres by planes of the Royal Air Force in a demonstration of readiness for any war developments.

Egypt, speeding defence preparations, looks to the flying and floating forces to help safeguard her shores.

School teachers were organized in special squads to serve as nurses in military hospitals. The air-raid protection bureau asked for funds to finance evacuation of principal cities in case of emergency.

Priceless antiques linked with Egypt's long history were moved to hiding places.

NEW U.S. WEAPON OFFERED TO ALLIES

OGDEN, Utah (CP)—Major Harold W. Webb of Palo Alto, Calif., traveled toward Washington today to negotiate with representatives of Great Britain and France for sale of a weapon of his own invention which he claimed is "so devastating in effect the Allies may refuse to use it."

"I do not intend to make public just what this new weapon is, because I do not want the Nazis to get hold of it," the retired United States Army officer told interviewers during a train stop. "But I will say," he continued, "that it can be fired from England to Germany, from North Africa into Italy and from battleships. It will wipe out an entire city at a time."

"It is very, practical, simple and effective," Webb said his new destroying agent had been tested and its might established. He served in France during two major offensives in the first Great War and was awarded a military decoration.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE DEADLINE TODAY

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadians with foreign exchange holdings at the close of business today will have passed the deadline and be in default of the foreign exchange acquisition order, the foreign exchange control board warned in a statement.

The foreign exchange acquisition order was passed by order-in-council April 30. It directed that all foreign exchange in possession of residents should be sold to the board by May 31, unless specific exemptions are granted, but a delay until June 30 had been granted in the case of non-British residents.

The delay is to permit of discussions in progress with the United States, concerning citizens of that country who are residents in Canada.

The order does not concern securities, but does include foreign currency deposits in possession, ownership or control of Canadians or other British subjects.

Troops May Wear Glasses

OTTAWA (CP)—Eye standards for admission to the Canadian Active Service Force have been considerably relaxed. It was learned here that new regulations will admit many men wearing glasses to the artillery, infantry and other arms. An official said that as far as eyes are concerned "anyone" would now be admitted, short of having lost one eye.

Prior to this change in regulations, some men wearing glasses were not considered eligible for combat units and were accepted in some cases for semi-combat units, such as the Army Service Corps.

Stars Called Home

NEW YORK (AP)—Vivien Leigh and Laurence Olivier, English actress and actor now playing on Broadway in Romeo and Juliet, were summoned home by the British government yesterday to enter war service.

The screen and stage stars said they recently volunteered, in letters to the British Ministry of Information, to serve in any available capacities. They announced they would close their Broadway run on June 8 and take the first homeward-bound ship. They said they were not advised what their duties would be.

To Check Subverters

REGINA (CP)—Attorney-General J. W. Estey has summoned representatives of various returned men's organizations in Regina to meet June 6 and discuss a plan for the formation of a voluntary organization to assist police in the detection of anti-British and subversive activities in Saskatchewan.

The plan was drawn up by the Saskatchewan government.

Hitler May Try To Divide Allies By Peace Offers

LONDON (CP)—Informed London observers today said they were looking for an early attempt by Adolf Hitler to divide Britain and France with separate offers of peace.

These quarters said they expected Hitler to flourish a threat of Italian entry into the war on Germany's side to induce acceptance of such offers.

Studying the possibilities of the Fuehrer's next blitzkrieg move, these observers said they were not discounting his penchant for doing the completely unexpected.

Hitler's strategy of taking one foe at a time while others are helpless to render effective aid supported the theory of some persons that he would attempt to smash France before concentrating on an invasion of Britain.

These were the possibilities envisaged:

1. A separate peace offer to France with a great smashing assault by land and air against Paris.

2. A threat of an Italian flank attack.

3. An ultimatum to Britain to lay down arms on Hitler's terms or face "total war."

SOLID FRONT

Evidence of a determination to forestall any effort of Hitler to separate the Allies or to make peace on "his" terms was seen in the reiteration that the Allies, fighting as a unit, would make no separate peace on any terms.

The statement by Alfred Duff Cooper, Minister of Information, only yesterday that Hitler will be "denied a seat at any future conference table" was seen as a further sign of Allied solidarity.

Master of Europe's western coast line from Boulogne in France to Bodo in Norway—with the exception of battered Dunkerque—Hitler might attempt to consolidate his lines along the Somme and Aisne Rivers in France and then strike at Britain, as he so often has threatened.

But most observers believed he first would seek to roll up the flanks of the Maginot Line, possibly with Italian aid, in order to free all his forces for the assault on Britain.

Editorial writers emphasized anew today the "unbreakable bond" of the Allies and attacked as a "damnable lie" the assertion by Nazi propagandists that some discord divides the purpose of Britain and France.

The London Evening News said: "The lesson of Flanders is clear . . . to make good our deficiencies . . . to give the army weapons to meet the enemy on equal terms."

"We have only just entered the tunnel of our difficulties," the News concluded.

PARIS NEXT?

Because an attack against Great Britain "is not yet practicable" Hitler's next aim will be the French army and Paris, the Daily Express predicted. The newspaper is the leading one in a chain owned by Lord Beaverbrook, new minister of aircraft production.

Attacks against northern France, the Express continued, may be simultaneous with invasion of Switzerland, especially if Italy interferes.

"Just now the Germans are on the crest of the wave of aggression," the Express added. "The time approaches when the impetus will slacken and finally wane. We go on growing stronger with the resources of the world behind us. We must get ready to hit back hard."

In the London press generally praise for the forces covering the evacuation of British detachments in Flanders was mingled with concern as to whether Britain would be Hitler's next target.

The Times said the Allies must resist first and strike next. And "remember that if Hitler does not get an easy victory against France and Great Britain he will be inevitably defeated." The newspaper predicted that a Nazi attempt to invade England would fail because of the British fleet, even if Nazi U-boats should be used on a large scale.

"The comparative quiescence of U-boats during the last two months suggests that the enemy may have been accumulating and training a large force of them for a concerted effort," the Times observed.

"And we may be sure," it added, "that besides attempts at sea passage every new device and stratagem—the fifth column, airborne troops landed by parachute, boat or direct on the ground—together with some yet not disclosed, will be enlisted in the coming desperate effort at a quick decision over the arch-enemy, Britain."

The Times expressed the belief that the greatest obstacle to Hitler's ambition to master the

State Nazis Plan To Wipe Out Poles

NEW YORK (AP)—A Polish "black book" issued here charged the Nazi government is attempting to "exterminate the whole Polish race . . . to create for Germany an open living space."

The book, edited by T. Francis Bennett and Count Anthony Tarnowski of the Polish Information Centre, attached to the Polish Consulate, estimates that 1,100,000 civilian adults, 200,000 children and 320,000 officers and soldiers have been killed in the German campaign and occupation of Poland.

Further, the book claims, 4,000,000 civilians have been deported from their Polish Corridor homes to the so-called government-general, and 7,000,000 now are suffering from famine. Since the war, the book continues, 26,000 civilians have been executed.

Russia Eases Balkan Tension

BUDAPEST (AP)—Soviet Russia, in a southeastern European peace move, has withdrawn troops from the Hungarian frontier and Hungary, in return, has suspended plans to call more reserves to her army, it was announced officially here.

This action, along with others to settle Balkan disputes, appeared generally to convince the Hungarian capital that the axis powers Germany and Italy may not spread the war eastward.

Call More Men

PARIS (CP-Havas)—France last night called to the colors the final fourth of the class of 1939—young men born between October 1 and December 31, 1919, and the first fourth of the class of 1940, born between January 1 and March 31, 1920.

U.S. TO MAKE BRITISH MOTOR

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain has turned the patents on its prize airplane engine over to the United States to facilitate production for the American and Allied air fleets.

The announcement was made by Dr. George Jackson Mead, aircraft adviser to Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau.

Dr. Mead said the British were giving the United States government full rights to use in any desired manner the patents to its famed Merlin—a 12-cylinder, liquid-cooled Rolls-Royce—the engine which powers British Defiants, Spitfires, Hurricanes and other speedy ships.

PLANES LEAVING

LONDON (CP)—G. C. Drury, London representative of the Canadian Car and Foundry Company, said today Hurricane fighter planes from the company's plants have been coming to England since January. The planes have been made to British specifications with materials hitherto shipped from Britain but now all Canadian material is being used, Drury said.

Air Trainers Needed

OTTAWA (CP)—At least 50 instructors to teach elementary flying at civilian schools under the British Commonwealth Air Training plan are urgently needed, it was learned at headquarters of the Canadian Flying Clubs Association here.

The 23 amateur flying clubs affiliated with the association will operate majority of the 26 elementary flying training schools to be set up under the plan, of which half have already started organization.

Each club school will require from 12 to 15 instructors, and the Canadian Flying Clubs Association here has opened a central registration roll to aid the clubs in selecting instructors.

Applicants for instructors' positions must have at least 50 hours' flying experience. In addition, they must either hold instructors' licenses or be ready to undergo necessary training to qualify as instructors before being assigned to one of the club schools scattered across the country.

What Men!

SEVERAL DAYS MAY ELAPSE BEFORE the world is given a connected narrative of all the details of the Allied withdrawal from Flanders. The real cause of the Belgian King's capitulation is still the subject of speculation. What is painfully clear is that the surrender of Leopold's army was an invaluable gift to Adolf Hitler. It followed almost immediately after General Weygand had expressed himself as well satisfied with his prospects for attack. It is nevertheless to be noted that the morale of the Allied forces has not deteriorated in the face of a bitter disappointment which no body dreamed possible.

What is being done by the British and French navies and air forces, however, is within the category of the miraculous. Fighting against enormous odds in the air, covering the movement of Allied troops to the coast, and the business of embarking them on craft of every conceivable description will furnish a chapter for the record of this phase of the war which will thrill generations yet unborn. Even the sketchiest of narratives reaching us in fragments would seem to indicate that thousands of men thought hopelessly lost have turned up at British coast points physically and mentally dazed but still able to smile and vow eternal vengeance on the common enemy.

The behavior of these men who have come from scenes of which we know little should give those of us who are far removed from the horror new incentive to leave nothing undone which can be done to reduce the time which must elapse before the Nazi beast is crushed. We have all the evidence we require to remind us constantly that the problem facing Canada is not so much one of adding soldiers to the Allied armies, but mainly one of assisting to the utmost of our capacity in the production of machines—machines and more machines. In other words, our principal task is industrial adaptation, knowing that if it were possible for this country to make immediate contributions in the shape of tanks and airplanes, we should be rendering most valuable service.

The men who are reaching England from Flanders are saying: "For God's sake give us more airplanes." We know the authorities at Ottawa are employing every conceivable means of placing Canada in a position to meet the new situation created by the Nazi drive to the Channel ports. This country is on its own now as far as equipping itself is concerned. Heroic measures will be required to meet demands that obviously are being made. But no matter what sacrifices we are asked to make we should remember the men who are facing Hell in Flanders and those who already have given their all.

Thread of Fate

THE OLDEN GREEKS REPRESENTED the Fates as spinning a thread which was the destiny of men. So on a thread may hang the fate of the war which has ravaged East Asia for three years. It is a thread spinning industriously and relentlessly from rows of machines in the United States, a new kind of thread—Nylon.

The Japanese Ministry of Agriculture and Forestry has been calling anxious conferences. For here is a thing which challenges the Japanese silk industry, a pillar of the island empire's economy. What the neighboring republic's abrogation of the 1911 treaty of commerce with Japan could not do, what voluntary privately-organized boycotts of Japanese silk could not do, this new industrial invention may do. A chance development of research 10,000 miles away might well end the Sino-Japanese war. For a pronounced decline in silk exports might be the straw that would break the back of a Japanese economy already badly strained by the long war. And that, in turn, might bring peace—and, incidentally, extricate the missionaries of Oriental "culture" from a sorry plight.

Still a Democracy

IN SPITE OF THE SERIOUSNESS OF these times, and notwithstanding their own arguments quite properly demanding that Canada measure her war effort to the changed circumstances in which her Allies find themselves, certain members of the House of Commons cannot resist the temptation to play politics. During the last few days a Conservative campaign to oust the Prime Minister from the leadership of the government has been vigorously pressed. Official opposition technique has been the form of lavish compliments to Mr. King on what is termed his "peace-time" ability, preparing the way for the final attack in the rear—that he remove himself and make room for another. Smarting under these repeated onslaughts on his leader, however, Hon. J. G. Gardiner yesterday afternoon reminded his Conservative friends—alluding to their fine phrases in eulogy of Mr. King—that "the one great betrayal of all time was effected by a kiss." This typical Gardiner thrust was met, according to the Canadian Press dispatch, by "the greatest ovation the House of Commons has witnessed in the memory of veteran observers." Recognizing the inner meaning of the strategy of a certain element of the Conservative contingent, Mr. M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. member for Rosetown-Biggar, reminded his opposition colleagues that, whether he and they liked it or not, the people of Canada last March gave the present administration a record-breaking endorsement, and in a democratic country that decision held.

On one point, of course, every Canadian is agreed: This country's war effort must be accelerated and expanded to the fullest possible extent—to insure the maximum of every form of assistance to the cause to which we, in common with our Allies, are irrevocably committed. And it is highly important that the Prime Minister keep the heads of the various political parties in the House fully informed on those matters of general war policy which may not be aired in public—as he already has done. But when some captious critics advance the argument that because Mr. Chamberlain "gracefully retired" a case has been made out for the retirement of Mr. Mackenzie King, they not only carefully ignore historical facts which have a direct bearing on the British public's attitude toward the former Prime Minister of Britain but also conveniently forget that they and practically every Conservative newspaper in Canada applauded Munich and heralded the deal consummated there as the charter to a new world order—"peace in our time." Those of us who had the temerity to express more than a doubt on the point, as we did in these columns, were called nasty names. And not even the most rabid Conservative partisan would seriously contend that there is any parallel in the present situation at Ottawa and the situation at Westminster before May 10. Surely this is a time to eschew petty politics; a time to get behind a government emphatically endorsed by a democratic people in a democratic way. That government's one object is to win the war and see that Canada pulls her whole weight for victory.

Collaboration

OF TREMENDOUS SIGNIFICANCE AND importance is the announcement that the United States government has been given permission to use in any manner desirable the patents of Great Britain's famous Merlin airplane engine. The object of this arrangement just made public at Washington is to facilitate production of machines for both Allied and American air fleets. The engine is the same as used in British Defiants, Spitfires and other speedy ships—a 12-cylinder, liquid-cooled Rolls-Royce job which already has won high praise.

We are not told in the dispatch from the United States capital whether or not this almost unparalleled manifestation of close collaboration between a nation at war and another still observing its neutrality—or, perhaps, demonstrating a state of friendly nonbelligerence would be a more fitting term—implies that new airplanes turned out in American industrial establishments for the Allies will have the benefit also of the jealously-guarded secret bombing sight perfected by American inventors. The authorities at Washington may feel inclined to permit the Nazi High Command to do all the guessing it may care to do on this score. But there is nothing to prevent us from comforting ourselves by the suggestion that the Merlin engine patents surely were worth a substantial quid pro quo—in the interests of all parties to the arrangement.

What is immediately apparent, however, is new proof of the friendly spirit of co-operation between the two branches of the English-speaking world. We know and the Germans know that if the Allies had had twice the number of airplanes they possessed at the outbreak of the conflict, the whole course of the war might have been vastly different. But the battle now in progress will not decide the issue. Germany won the first tricks in 1914 but lost the war in 1918; the Washington announcement helps us to predict with more assurance that history will repeat itself.

Goering says Hitler is a military genius, but alas, he also says Hitler was a first-line soldier in the last war.

ENGLAND: REFUGE OF EXILES

From Toronto Globe and Mail

Just as in most communities, however small, there is a household that may be relied upon by neighbors who need help and shelter, so England is the natural haven for royal refugees from other lands. And this succor is not confined to royalty. Men fleeing from persecution find their way to England and the freedom it assures. In peace-time her sea gates are guarded only against criminals pursued by the law.

Queen Wilhelmina of Holland is the latest royal guest to seek English hospitality. Other harried monarchs sheltered for a time by Britain include Alfonso of Spain, Manoel of Portugal, Ferdinand of Bulgaria, Selassie of Ethiopia, George of Greece (until his restoration to the throne); and now Wilhelmina and her family.

These royal exiles take it for granted that England's doors are open to them; and in England it is taken for granted that they are likely to come. These are not penniless refugees, although many thousands of them have found refuge in the tight little island. They have funds, but they know that in England they are safe.

This condition provides a striking tribute to the solidarity of Britain. Dynasties in other lands may disappear; thrones may be toppled over, kings be uncrowned and dispossessed by treachery or organized revolt, but the British Crown remains secure and its wearers enjoy increasing popularity; more than popularity: the positive devotion of the people.

In peace or in war England, the heart of Empire, continues calm and reliable; to such an extent that, even with waves of conflict surging almost against her shores, she is first in the thoughts of those in other lands who seek refuge from peril.

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

THESE PROPHETS

NOT MANY MONTHS ago I was invited to lunch with some fairly important naval and military people. I was hoping to get some good inside war information from some of them, but did not fare specially well in that regard. But I was much amused when a general leaned over to me and asked me in a whisper if I knew Hitler's number. He had it all figured out that Hitler was No. 666 of the Book of Revelation (Chapter 13, verse 18).

I smiled because I had been having some amusing experience about numbers myself. In my lectures I used to use the dates 1492 and 1914 as the obvious brackets on the beginning and end of the age of nationalism. It was in that period that the nations, as we now know them, came into being, and that nationalism reached its climax when the system of power politics made the recurring armament races and catastrophic wars inevitable. My lecture, of course, was designed to show that nationalism never again could function effectively after 1914, because the three legs of the stool on which it had been built had all collapsed. Later it occurred to me that it would be easier for people to remember the dates if I started with 1914 and turned that around to make it 1491 instead of 1492.

This year I was further trying to tell the people that by 1941 the whole world would realize that the era of nationalism was over forever. So I used the figures 1491-1914-1941 all over Canada in this connection. On the prairies the ladies began to whisper around that I must be a numerologist. I dined one night in a hotel with my back to two ladies and unwittingly overheard a discussion of my own speech of the afternoon. I realized then, even more than before, how the ladies love a mystery, and why nine out of every ten women who registered in Canada for war work registered for secret service.

INGENIOUS PROPHETS

I WOULD NOT DARE to discuss biblical prophecy in this column. There are enough wars going on in the world already, and I know no more certain way of starting a small-sized war than to get the rival schools of prophecy propounding their cases. The weak spot in biblical prophecy is its interpreters. Read back what they were saying five, 10 or 15 years ago and then make a revised appraisal of what they are saying now. Half of their ideas are as cock-eyed as the ex-Kaiser's, whose own study of biblical prophecy encouraged him to do some of the violent things he did.

To me the most astounding prophetic, was the old Englishwoman, Mother Shipton, whose prophecies made hundreds of years ago have come true, not in some vague mystical way, but so plainly that even he who runs may read. It was this old girl who wrote about the horseless carriage, the airplane, and these wars. For instance, she wrote: "A war shall follow with the work where dwells the pagan and the Turk." . . . Then when the worse work is done England and France shall be as one. . . . In another place she writes about the armies of alliance being cut in two, and says: "When north shall thus divide the south the Eagle shall build in the Lion's mouth."

All of which seems to put it up to Mr. Roosevelt.

THE CATCH TO IT

I AM VERY CHARY of all kinds of prophetic myself, because I have learned how dangerous it may be. I once knew a lady who persisted in reading my horoscope, and the cursed thing all came true over a period of years. But I found that, when so much of it had come true, I was involuntarily remembering the rest of it, and it was affecting my judgment. I defy any human being to make a clean-cut decision if that human being's heart of hearts believes that fate has decreed a certain end anyway.

In my own case the unfortunate thing was that the dark-haired woman against whom she had forewarned me was not the one I thought it was. After that I was more leery than ever.

The most mischievous part of fortune-telling and prophecy is that it so often acts as an opiate to people. We will not win this war, for instance, because Mother Shipton or some other prophet said we would. We will win it, if we do, because human beings do certain things, and make certain sacrifices.

SABOTAGE MUST BE MET

From Toronto Telegram

Sabotage in Canada while we are at war merits the death penalty. It is necessary to indicate drastically that activities of that sort will not be tolerated. Parliament should not wait till the question of dealing with subversive elements gets out of the committee, to which Minister of Justice Lapointe proposes to entrust it, before dealing with those who engage in direct action.

THE WOOING OF SUCCESS

He gave her love, strong, clean and bright,
And sheltered her from want and night;
I saw him take her soft, white hand
And kiss it with such tenderness
That one could feel the depth of love
That prompted the caress.

She did not know, seemed not to care
That there are burdens love must share;
She laughed, was gay, found time to sing,
But never once her pretty head
Thought tending love was fair and just
Until his love was dead.

Look Forward, Duce!

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

DUCE, BEFORE you take your nation into this war, think well and long concerning the United States of America.

We are an odd people, Duce. Our democracy may seem to you sprawling and uncompact, composed of all the peoples of Europe, divided in its opinions, quarrelling among ourselves.

But that is only one America. The other is the America that flies together in an emergency; that, being slow to anger, is terrible in wrath; that, detesting imposed discipline, can impose it on itself; that, being individual, can be, briefly or for long, united in gregarious self-discipline.

IDEALISTIC NATION

Although we detest aggression—particularly the aggression of the strong against the weak—we despise the vulture who waits until his prey is locked in a life and death struggle and then falls on him from behind.

We are an idealistic nation, Duce. In us is still a crusading and evangelistic spirit. Not dead in us, Duce, is a sympathy for the underdog—a sympathy which our strength allows us to indulge.

For we are very strong, Duce. We are stronger than you know; stronger, even, than we know. From Italy, Germany looks mighty to you. You see her great industries, her imposing furnaces, mills, factories, storehouses, turning out and hoarding for these many years airplanes and tanks, and explosives and great guns.

These do not impress us, Duce. The potential industrial power, the backbone of modern warfare, is not in Germany. It is in the United States. That potential of power is five times that of all Europe combined. We have at this moment the capacity to produce 8,000,000 automobiles, in factories running only on day shifts; our tractor production runs into millions; and motorized equipment and tanks are only automobiles and trucks with lin hats on. We can produce more steel than all of Europe combined; we are a land built of skyscrapers and steel construction; our workers know how to handle steel, and their numbers are legion.

And our resources will not run out. They are within our borders. They are in our own hands.

DO NOT BE deceived, Duce, by what is termed "public opinion." Ours is a genuine public

Terrible Fate of Jews in Poland

Chicago Daily News

The Hamburger Fremdenblatt today afforded a brief glimpse into one of the aspects of the fate that awaits Germany's conquered provinces. It describes how the Jews of Litzmannstadt (the former Polish Lodz) have now been hermetically locked up in a medieval ghetto, from which they are allowed to maintain no personal contact whatever with the outside world.

"The ghetto in Litzmannstadt has been closed by the police," the Fremdenblatt says. "Following the geographic separation of Aryans and similar persons, on the one hand, from Jews on the other hand, in the former Lodz, which was so infested with Jews, the ghetto now is set aside as the living and working quarter for the Jews. They live there among each other, naturally under German police supervision. The total catch was more than twice the previous season's yield of 67,000 tons.

Most of this great score of valuable food fish will not be used as 'canner herring.' The canned herring pack (export food supply for Allied use overseas) is 415,000 cases this season, far exceeding all previous outputs here, and a prodigious increase over the pack of 23,000 cases last year. Besides, this herring catch has yielded 1,750,000 gallons of oil.

WHY, IF IT ISN'T LOUISA M.

From Toronto Star

If there was one author who never expected to have her face on a postage stamp, and if there was one face which most people never expected to see on a postage stamp, that author was Louisa May Alcott, and that face was hers. The boys and girls of the last century used to get "Little Women" and "Good Wives," "Little Men" and "Jo's Boys," as Christmas presents, which was somewhat of a grief to them if they had already "had them out" from the Sunday school library; but let no one imagine that Louisa is not read today. They say at the Toronto public library that all her books are on the shelves, or rather off the shelves, for there is a steady demand and an applicant may well find that the one he desires is being read by someone else. So perhaps the United States postal authorities made no mistake when they put Louisa on their current five-cent postage.

After all, "Little Women" was produced in London as a play in 1919, and filmed in Hollywood in 1933. It was written away back in 1867, when Louisa was 35.

TRUTH ABOUT THE RED CROSS

From Toronto Globe and Mail

If your neighbor tells you the Canadian Red Cross Society is selling the socks and sweaters that patriotic women knit for the soldiers and sailors, it's a Nazi lie. The Red Cross has never been able to obtain proof that socks so made are being sold for 49 cents a pair, or any other price. The Canadian has been officially denied a score of times, but is still circulating.

Out of every dollar subscribed to the Canadian Red Cross Society 80 cents is being used for actual war work, 14.5 cents for peace-time services, and only 3.5 cents for administration.

The Canadian Red Cross has for months been shipping thousands of cases of hospital supplies, surgical dressings and comforts, including knitted goods made by Canadian women, to be available in England for emergencies.

Thousands of refugees from Holland and Belgium who have poured into England are being helped. An organization has been set up to minister to the Canadian soldiers overseas. A 600-bed Red Cross hospital has been erected and equipped at Taplow, near Windsor Castle. Canadian prisoners of war in Germany will be fed and cared for, as they were during the last war, when 2,700 were supplied the necessities of life in one month.

Nazi lies about the Canadian Red Cross are circulated to discourage the thousands of women across the Dominion who are giving of their time and effort voluntarily to provide comforts for the gallant fighting men.

Subscribers to this humanitarian society will realize that the Red Cross is definitely an emergency organization which cannot be tied down to a prepared budget controlled by a joint community chest effort. Its work is universal, and its scope is limited only by the need.

SWISS PREPARED

"I left Switzerland last fall, but things are happening so fast in Europe that I don't know when I shall be able to return home," said Walter Studer of Zurich, at the Empress Hotel today.

Mr. Studer, a dealer in art reproductions, has just completed a business tour of the United States and Canada.

Expressing the hope Switzerland would not be involved in the war, he said his country was prepared to resist invasion.

He, like all Swiss, has had military training.

Want War Effort Speeded Up

That Canada's war effort be speeded up and that efforts be made stronger to suppress "fifth column" activities, were among the many items discussed by delegates to the Junior Chambers of Commerce of British Columbia annual convention in Kelowna on May 24 and 25, according to Thomas R. Sturgess, Victoria president, on his return from the convention this week.

There was a keen desire of all boards in the province to encourage the study, not only of community affairs, but of provincial and national affairs also. Mr. Sturgess said the convention was a big success, attracting 51 delegates, all of whom were hospitably treated by the host group in Kelowna and the city generally.

Anti-war Outbreaks Seen in Austria

BERNE (CP-Havas) — Reports received here said crowds of women in mourning staged angry anti-war demonstrations in towns and cities of German-controlled Austria and Czechoslovakia.

Among cities mentioned in the reports were Vienna and Linz in Austria and Karisbad and Reichenberg in Czechoslovakia. Troops and police were said to have intervened on several occasions to maintain order.

Neutral travelers who arrived here last night from Austria reported they had been unable to obtain accommodations in Vienna hotels because all had been requisitioned to serve as military hospitals for wounded soldiers arriving from the western front.

Ambulance trains carrying thousands of wounded are arriving in Austrian cities in utmost secrecy, the travelers said.

United States army chief of staff, had told a House appropriations subcommittee it was estimated that 40 per cent of the German army's mechanized equipment had been destroyed in the Nazi's desperate drive to the Channel.

SCOTTISH BAND NOW DISBANDED

Members of the military band of the First Battalion Canadian Scottish Regiment expressed regret at Ottawa orders calling for the discharge of the band as of April 1 at a banquet held in Spencer's dining room last night.

Possibilities that the band may reorganize on a different basis were discussed.

Past and present members of the band and commanding officers of the battalion and regiment were seated at the head table including Colonel J. R. Kingham, Colonel H. M. Urquhart, Lieut. Col. F. Brooke Stephenson, David Rife, James Watson, Leo Grogan, Walter Luney and Henry Ball. Lieutenant J. M. Miller, bandmaster, acted as chairman at the banquet. The program was arranged by C. R. D. Ferris with Leslie Clark as treasurer.

Orders for the discharge of all band members not mobilized with the regiment, had come as a great shock to the band, the chairman said, as the orders from Ottawa were received. This caused the cessation of the band's activities.

Mr. Miller expressed regret at the lack of demand for a band and said that there should be such an organization in each city.

Col. Urquhart, in proposing a toast to the regiment, said that he differed from the modern trend of military thought inasmuch as he was of the opinion that military bands had a distinctive inspiring influence on the troops. He praised the work of the Canadian Scottish band and also the spirit of comradeship shown by the bandsmen.

Col. Kingham, in replying to the toast, said that the Canadian Scottish, in its affiliation with the Royal Scots, was unexcelled. The fact that Col. D. R. Sargent had been chosen to command the 6th Infantry Brigade of the Second Division, was a great compliment to the regiment, Col. Kingham stated.

A toast to the fighting forces was proposed by Lieut. Col. Stephenson and replied to by Mr. Grogan.

Entertainment consisted of community singing led by Charles Hunt, baritone solos by Thomas Crabbe, a former bandsman; a quiz program with F. W. Francis and William Davidson as judges, and motion pictures in color of the Royal Visit and the departure of the P.P.C.L.I., both screened by Mr. Ferris.

PARIS (CP-Havas) — The following communique was issued last night by the Polish general staff:

"Our air squadrons are participating in the struggle at the side of the Allies. Polish aviators have scored many and important successes.

"Big Polish infantry units already are at the front.

"The Polish navy is in action at the side of the British navy. It has not ceased to fight since the beginning of the war, a fact which is appreciated by the Allied command. NEW YORK—The following are editorial comments on Germany's reply to the United States' note on the sinking of the Lusitania: New York Times—The German reply is not responsive to our demands. The German manner cannot fail to create a most unfavorable impression in this country. New York World—The German response to the American protest does not meet the issue. It is worse than evasive—it is insincere, even pettifogging. Regret will be felt everywhere in the United States that the affairs of a great people have fallen into the hands of men capable of such desperate trifling. New York Press—Berlin's answer to President Wilson's note is friendly, gracious and unsatisfactory.

Among the Victorians wounded while fighting overseas were: Pte. Charles Moore O'Neill, 15th Bn. (formerly 30th); L.-Cpl. John Franklin Tait, 15th Bn. (formerly 30th); Pte. Albert Udou, 16th Bn. and Pte. Alex. Henry Kersey, 16th Bn.

LONDON—Field Marshal Sir John French, British commander-in-chief, in an address to the troops who fought in the second battle of Ypres, which he described as one of the most desperate fights of the war, declared that they had done much to shorten the war.

SEATTLE—Seattle and the country within a radius of 50 miles was severely shaken at 2 yesterday morning by a mysterious explosion of 15 tons of

AMERICA'S LONGEST ELECTRIFIED RAILROAD

China Winning, Lecturer Says

China's great masses, which, which for three years have suffered from brutal aggression, will win the war in the far east, in the confident opinion of Dr. A. J. Brace, world traveler, soldier, lecturer and Y.M.C.A. worker in China for 25 years, as expressed yesterday in an address before the Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel.

With China becoming better organized every day under the great leadership of Chiang Kai-shek, Japan could not defeat them now, Dr. Brace declared, no matter how loud the Japanese were broadcasting to the rest of the world that they were winning.

Japan's open door policy in China has become known to the Chinese masses as Japanese domination now. "But the Chinese are now determined that the only open door in their country will be the way out for the Japanese," Dr. Brace said.

In the first year of the war China held. It was a terrible year of slaughter and horror. But China took it on the chin and held. The next year they were still holding and now, the third year, China was winning.

"China can't lose now. Because China is getting stronger daily, while Japan is getting weaker. In fact the Japanese had not taken a major city in China for a long time," said Dr. Brace to illustrate his point. To date the Japanese had been unable to penetrate further north than Hankow.

Another reason why Dr. Brace believed Japan could not win now was that China was better financed financially. Chiang Kai-shek had wisely shipped his bullion out of the country early in the war and was not using this as collateral for getting loans, which Japan couldn't get and needed because her China campaign was costing her $5,000,000 a day.

The Three Rexolas, professional perch artists, acrobats and skaters who have recently completed a tour of the United States, make up the program of the Y.M.C.A. Singing Bros. Bigger and Better Circus tonight and tomorrow night at the Willows horse show building.

The show will be opened both nights at 8:15 by Lester Patrick, manager of the New York Rangers, world's professional ice hockey championship team.

Norval Peterson will be ring master and music will be supplied by the Gizeh Temple Shrine Band under the direction of James Miller.

The Three Rexolas will glow two acts, the first featuring novelty and the second a daring and clever perch balance combined with acrobatics.

Another featured act, titled "Gypsy Caravan," will present a harmonica band, singers, gay tumbling and dancing, and local tight-wire walkers who will perform on the steel thread suspended high above the ground. A great deal of preparation has gone into this one act alone. It promises to be the most spectacular performance of its kind ever seen here.

ACROBATS
Champion amateur gymnasts and acrobats, the senior leaders of the Y.M.C.A. will give an aerial jamboree and balancing pyramids.

"Oliver and Tardy" will be seen in a comedy presentation, "Law Without Order," and Col. Lipstick will have his educated sparkplug in the ring.

The Victoria Girls' Drill Team will present a marching and baton-swinging display featuring Miss Dorothy Glover.

The Victoria and Riding Polo Club will give an equestrian act in true circus style.

De Macedo and Moore will be seen in contortions and balances, and Frank Merryfield, the Cornish Wizard, will give spectacular magic demonstrations highlighted by a mystifying escape act.

A hundred boys will present a colorful flag drill.

P.E.O. Sisterhood To Meet Here Tomorrow

Does Magnificent Educational Work Among Girls

Cynics who claim that women cannot keep a secret will be interested to learn that there will be a secret known only to its members—of whom there are 79,035 in the international organization—and who accomplish an educational work of such a magnitude that they have to date raised and loaned $2,868,603.80 to girls for higher education, all without the aid of publicity.

The sisterhood is the P.E.O. and chapters from all parts of the province, including about 30 from Vancouver, will gather at the Empress Hotel tomorrow morning for the annual session of the British Columbia Chapter.

SUPREME OFFICERS COMING

Mrs. H. C. L. Gregg of Vancouver, provincial president, arrived in Victoria this morning from the mainland city for the all-day sessions tomorrow, and guests of honor will include Mrs. Veda M. Jones of Portland, Oregon, supreme president, and Mrs. Madeline Wolfe of Seattle, organizer for Washington State.

Mrs. Fred M. McGregor will preside at the convention sessions, at which the various chapters will present their reports. In the evening the chapters will hold a closing banquet at the Empress Hotel at which husbands of the members will be guests.

This evening Mrs. H. C. L. Gregg will be the guest of honor at a dinner given at the Empress Hotel by board members, executives and past presidents.

On Sunday afternoon the distinguished visitors will be taken for a drive, returning to "Havenwood," the charming home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Pendray at Esquimalt Lagoon, for tea.

This afternoon the supreme president and other visiting officers were guests at a tea held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Beach Drive.

Monterey P.T.A. Sends Gifts to Kyoquot

The Monterey P.T.A. met Tuesday. Mrs. W. T. Bracken and Mrs. H. A. Tiers reported that eight framed pictures and one frame had been donated by the members for the adopted school at Kyoquot. Through the kindness of Mr. W. Heaney and the Kyoquot Trailers' Association, these pictures had been packed and shipped to the school.

Mrs. R. S. Yates was thanked for the use of a mimeographing machine, and Mesdames Lune, Greene, Prevost and Beckwith for assistance in distributing the notices of meetings.

PLAN RED CROSS TEA

It was decided to purchase a $25 war saving certificate. Through the kindness of Mrs. Coleridge H. T. Cole, 2031 Runnymede Avenue, who is generously lending her beautiful home for the occasion, the association is arranging a tea in aid of the Oak Bay Red Cross Society on Wednesday, June 19. Mrs. W. R. Gunn was appointed convener of the affair.

The president, Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, completed her report of the convention and illustrated her remarks with books and pamphlets. Also on display was the project book of the James Bay P.T.A., which obtained second prize at the convention. The drawings and lettering done by the pupils of South Park School, under the direction of Miss May Croft, were much admired.

Following adjournment, the members were escorted on a tour of the building by Mr. B. C. Gille.

Those present included Mrs. David Slater, Mrs. James Gower, Mrs. Arthur Roberts and the Misses Lillian Tanner, Eve Morbey, Nora Malkin, Nora Garcin, Doris Manning, Barbara Winslow, Doris Bell, Pat Cumberbirch, Kitty Freethy, Flossie Hughes, Stella Davies, Janet Martion, Margaret Alley, Willa Andrews, Gwen Richens, Smith, Vivie Kilsby, Julia Kent-Jones, Lucy Huzzey, Sheila Watson, Anna Anderson, Doreen Lougheed, Muriel Soares, Helen Gilliland, Susie Dixon, Dodo Ford, Beverley Pearce, Sheila Collins, Anna Collins and Margaret Goldsmith.

Chapter Concerned About V.I. Indians

At the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., meeting, held yesterday at headquarters, final arrangements were made for the garden party which will be held next Wednesday at Miss Crease's home, "Pentrelew," Fort Street.

The regent, Mrs. A. S. Christie, and secretary, Mrs. Bertha Parsons, will act as a committee to get in touch with the Indian agent to see what can be done to help make conditions better for the Indians on this island, and the Saanich Indians in particular. The story of an Indian's suicide, which appeared in the Daily Times a few weeks ago, prompted this action on the part of the chapter.

The secretary presented the report of Mrs. F. G. Mulliner, Echoes secretary. The chapter endorsed the resolution to refrain from contributing to the endowment fund while the country is at war.

Donations for the various booths will be gratefully received for the garden party, the proceeds of which will go to war work and the various obligations of the chapter. Mrs. Ada Matheson was appointed Rose Day convener; Kresge's corner being the one allotted to this chapter.

The chapter expressed sympathy with the idea of the I.O.D.E. contributing a mechanized vehicle for the conduct of the war, and will await the results of the national meetings and gladly co-operate when the time is ripe.

Woolens were brought in for the services, and a letter of thanks received from a sailor on one of His Majesty's ships. Miss Herd gave the treasurer's report, also reported regarding war work and the need for more magazines during the summer as well as winter months.

The regent, secretary and educational secretary will attend the closing exercises of Sir James Douglas School and present the prizes from this chapter. Mrs. G. W. Pottinger gave the educational secretary's report and asked for suitable boys' names for bursary holders.

A resolution moved by Mrs. Parsons will be forwarded to the Municipal Chapter, asking that attention be drawn to the fact that sailors who have been transferred to other ports have to pay added postage on receipt of parcels, thus working a hardship on the recipients of complimentary gifts.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. R. P. Wallis, Mrs. Clifford Kaehn and Mrs. E. E. Harper were hostesses at tea.

Weddings

BARRY-TURFF

VANCOUVER—Scarlet and lemon pillar roses massed on the altar at Holy Trinity Church formed the setting for the wedding Wednesday evening of Winifred Beulah Turff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henry Turff, and Mr. James Joseph Barry, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Joseph Barry of Victoria.

Rev. N. D. B. Larmouth read the service and during the signing of the register, Mr. H. Stonton sang.

The bride wore a heavenly blue imported frock with matching hat, trimmed with delicate pink flowers to harmonize with her bouquet of rapture roses, and white sweet peas.

Miss Beulah Ramage was her attendant, in an ensemble carrying out the pink and blue theme. Her frock was dainty pink and her leghorn hat was trimmed in pink and blue, while gladioli and sweet peas were in her bouquet.

Mr. Leslie Higham was best man for his cousin, while Mr. Grant Hagel, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Wilfred Barry, cousin of the groom, acted as ushers.

The Peter Pan Ballroom was the setting for the reception when the bride's mother, wearing a navy sheer over sea coral with matching hat and corsage of Tallman roses, greeted the guests, assisted by Mrs. Barry who wore a hyacinth frock with matching hat and corsage of Hollywood roses.

When leaving on her wedding trip the bride donned a Queen's blue frock, topped by a black coat. Her hat was white, and her accessories in the white and black theme.

Colfax Rebekahs Honor Mothers

A large number of friends, members of the order and their mothers, attended the social evening held by Colfax Lodge on Tuesday evening in the Odd Fellows' Hall. A delightful program had been arranged under the con- venship of Mrs. Mildred Mac- kenzie and her committee.

Mrs. Dorothy Pearce, Noble Grand of the lodge, acted as chairman, and gave the address of welcome. Vocal numbers were given by Miss Holly Greer, Miss Mary Armitage and Miss Elaine Harte, the accompanists being Miss Betty Hemmingsen and Mrs. Silver.

One of the outstanding num- bers on the program was the tableau, "Mother," by the Theta Rho Club, the juvenile branch of Rebekahs. This tableau was a tribute to Colfax Rebekah Lodge 1 (the mother lodge) and the song was dedicated to all mothers of the order. Those taking part in this number were: Ellen Marie Sommerville, Joan Pearson, Rona Combe, Viola Sands, Ruth Gardner, Evelyn Taylor and Ruth Farquhar.

Mrs. Bullen sang the song, "Mother," and was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Edith Holy- oake. Mrs. Mary Combe, advisory of the Theta Rho Club took the part of mother. The address given by Mrs. J. Pilgrim was much enjoyed.

Others included on the pro- gram were sons and daughters of members of the order as follows: Piano solos, Norma Hurry, Joyce Collins, Dorothy Harding, Jack Gardiner and Jack Boam; recita- tion, Jean Maynard; piano accom- paniment, Marnie Pearce; cornet solo, Gordon Farquhar; banjo trio, Laverne Sands, Dave Donaldson and Alexis Crouch with Elaine Harte singing the chorus.

Refreshments were served in the dining-room. The tables looked very dainty with their centres of mauve stocks. A large cake beautifully decorated and bearing the word "Mother" held the place of honor at the head table. A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of a lovely corsage to Mrs. J. Pol- lard, the oldest mother in Colfax Lodge and also one to Mrs. Jean Johnson, the youngest.

Social and Personal

The Misses Marguerite Under- wood and Val Curtis were joint hostesses last evening, at the home of Mrs. F. Curtis, Boyd Street, with a miscellaneous shower in compliment to Miss Josephine Curtis, who is to be married tomorrow. On her arrival the bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations and maidenhair fern, and later received the many attractive gifts, which were con- cealed in a miniature house. The evening was spent in games and contests, prize winners being Mrs. T. Doswell and Miss J. Cook. A sit-down supper was served from a table decorated with pale pink and green, a crystal bowl of pink columbine forming the centerpiece. Mrs. F. Curtis poured tea. The invited guests included Madames H. Cook, T. Doswell, W. Smith, F. Curtis and F. Eagle and the Misses J. Cook, Isabelle Jewell, Muriel Oxendale, Marion Jull, Margaret George, Gwen Burton, Nancy Martin, Olive Jordan and Phyllis Elliott.

Florence Mary Eaton and Frank Flavell McEachern were married in Toronto on Tuesday, May 28, in Timothy Eaton Mem- orial Church, which was built by the bride's father, the late Sir John Craig Eaton, in memory of his father, the late Timothy Eaton. Only immediate rela- tives and very close friends attended the ceremony. The re- ception was held at Eaton Hall, King, Ontario. After the wed- ding reception the bride couple left by airplane for Virginia Beach, Va., where they will spend their honeymoon. The bride is the daughter of Lady Eaton, who is pictured at top with her daughter and new son-in-law. He is the son of Mrs. Clara Flavell McEachern, who received the guests with Lady Eaton. At the ceremony Miss Eaton had nine attendants, left, who are pictured here at the spiral staircase of Eaton Hall. The young women are: Mrs. John David Eaton, matron of honor; Miss Betty Flavelle, maid of honor; Miss Evelyn Eaton, Mrs. Gilbert McCrea Eaton, Miss Margaret Foulds, Miss June McEachern, Miss Cecily Taylor and Miss Jane Smith, bridesmaids, and Miss Flora Jane Mulligan, junior bridesmaid.

Save on Stockings To Purchase Gun

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP) — Mrs. E. N. Wright, club worker of this western Ontario city, has suggested that Brantford women can raise $40,000 for the purchase of an anti-aircraft gun for the Canadian active service force by depriving themselves of one pair of silk stockings during each of the three summer months.

Mrs. Wright said yesterday a woman buys at least two pair of stockings a month and that by buying one pair less the money thus saved could be put into a fund to buy the gun.

Student Newly-weds Keep House Jointly

LOS ANGELES (CP) — A group of University of California stu- dents at Los Angeles believe they have found an answer to the problem of how to marry young and still get a college education at minimum cost.

Eight of them have established "Falkirk House," a dwelling about three miles from the campus, and the four couples operate the co- operative venture on a budget of $192 monthly—$48 a couple—that includes all expense.

The men do the heavy work around the house and yard and the women do the cooking and house cleaning. All divide cook- ing and washing chores, conform- ing to class periods, and each couple is assigned to one night a week of cooking and washing dishes for the rest.

Bishop's Son Weds Aborigine Bride

JUBBULPORE, India—Verrier Elwin, 38-year-old son of Bishop Elwin of Sierra Leone, and a former chaplain of Merton College, Oxford, was married to a Gond girl, named Kosirui, with whose tribe of aborigines he has lived for eight years.

They were married by the Registrar of Civil Marriages under the civil law of India, and are settling down in the Gond country.

Elwin, writer and social worker, is founder of the "Bheerji Gond Save Mandal," an organization de- voted to the uplifting of the Gonds and aborigines inhabiting the hilly tracks of the Central Provinces.

In 1926 he was vice-principal of Wycliffe Hall, Oxford, and in 1927 chaplain of Merton College.

Since 1932 he has lived among the aboriginal tribesmen in the Central Provinces, where he founded a Jesper home and settle- ment for education and research on humanitarian lines.

America Belongs to Reich By Right Of Discovery

Says Hitler, According To Mme. Tabouis In Lecture in Paris

By GLADYS M. ARNOLD

PARIS (CP) — The huge Mar- igny Theatre on the Champs- Elysees was packed with people to hear the French journalist Genevieve Tabouis talk on "The War Aims of Hitler."

Madame Tabouis, dainty as a bit of limoges china, is always a surprise to those who hear her— for like her articles, her state- ments are clear, concise, rich with unexpected information and de- livered in that vigorous style which quite belies her almost frail physical appearance.

Reading his statements for over a period of 10 years it is evi- dent no country in the world escaped his attention, said Ma- dame Tabouis. America, for in- stance. According to Hitler it is only an unfortunate miscarriage of justice (easily corrected, of course, by the Nazis) that it is not a part of the German Em- pire. Christopher Columbus dis- covered America thanks to pre- cious German documents which he consulted and "it is certain that America by right of dis- covery should belong to the Third Reich."

"Further, there are 15,000,000 Germans or their descendants in the United States. In short, America is a product of German genius and these citizens ask nothing better than to return to the Reich. Their work has made America but the fruits have been stolen by capitalists," in Hitler's view, said Madame Tabouis.

PROTECTION INDEED

A similar argument had been put forth for practically every other square yard of territory in the world. "India, Africa, Europe itself can think of no happier solution than to put themselves under the benevolent protection of National Socialism, according to Hitler—protection such as reigns in Czechoslovakia, Poland and today in Norway."

Madame Tabouis suggested that Hitler takes as his ideal Henry I who, followed by his son, and so on down to Henry VI (the Cruel) in the years 919 to 1194 created the Pan-German Empire. Holland, Belgium, part of France, Italy, Austria, Bohemia, the Bal- cans and Baltic states, Turkey, Palestine and Switzerland were brought under control. "Between Henry and myself," Hitler has de- clared, "there has been nothing but periods of decadence with a few ineffectual attempts to re- store the real grandeur of Ger- many—Bismarck, for example."

For this reason, each year Hit- ler has the tomb of Henry I cov- ered with flowers of homage.

Was Close Friend of Former Emperor

LONDON — Frau Katharina Schratz, close friend and confi- dante of the Emperor Franz Jo- sef, died recently in Vienna. Kath- erina Schratz was at one time a comedy actress in the Burg The- atre in Vienna, and was introduced to the Emperor by his wife, the Empress Elizabeth, to keep him company while she was away at her various country houses.

Frau Schratz breakfasted with the Emperor at 7 every morning during his lifetime, and continued to breakfast at this hour for the rest of her life. Every year she went to lay flowers on his tomb, and the tombs of the other Haps- burg Emperors in Vienna.

Her death will release a num- ber of letters between herself and the Emperor, and also be- tween herself and the Empress Elizabeth. She was offered from time to time great sums of money for these letters but, although to- wards the end of her life she was very poor, she would not part with them.

British Women Give Rings to Cause

LONDON (CP Cable) — British women have started contributing their rings to the national war effort.

The Daily Telegraph today pub- lished letters from two unidenti- fied correspondents who had en- closed their rings.

One woman sent an engagement ring "to help our country in its fight against evil."

Another, signing herself "A Giver," sent the wedding ring worn by the mother of the late Captain William Lee Robinson, V.C.

The Telegraph said these gifts and others received anonymously had been forwarded to the Treasury.

Ovation in House For Premier King

OTTAWA (CP)—Stirred by repeated Conservative demands for Prime Minister Mackenzie King's retirement from the government leadership, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Agriculture Minister, struck back on his leader's behalf and aroused the greatest ovation the House of Commons has witnessed in the memory of veteran observers.

The outburst came yesterday when Hon. W. Earl Rowe, Conservative, Dufferin-Simcoe, Ont., was paying compliments to the Prime Minister's peacetime ability, obviously leading to a demand that he step aside and give the war government leadership to another.

Mr. Rowe's remarks were left uncompleted when he was interrupted by shouts from the Liberal benches.

Hon. C. G. Power, Air Minister, heatedly accused Mr. Rowe of trying "by intrigue" to get into the government after falling to get there through the votes of the people.

Mr. Gardiner declared he would "no longer sit silently" through these repeated Conservative attacks on his leader. "We are behind him to a man and the people of Canada are behind him," he declared.

The compliments to Mr. King's qualities which had preceded other Conservative demands for the Prime Minister's retirement reminded Mr. Gardiner that "the one great betrayal of all time was effected by a kiss."

Mr. Gardiner declared the present opposition was "a group of men who have got rid of more leaders since 1927 than any other political party in any part of the British Empire."

The minister said that when, in prewar years, the Liberal administration tried to put through increased estimates for defence "members from every part of the opposition" had demanded assurances nothing would be spent for overseas operations. On each of those occasions the Prime Minister had pleaded with the House to pass defence estimates.

Establishment of the Trans-Canada Airlines and encouragement given aviation generally had inspired the United Kingdom to initiate the British Commonwealth Air Training plan in Canada.

Of Conservative demands for a national government, Mr. Gardiner said "we have a more national government now than could be obtained under any leadership." There had been disunity in Canada, but it had ended under Mr. King.

KING UNITED COUNTRY

"There is not another man in Canada who could so unite the different forces in Canada. That is why we are standing behind him to a man," the minister declared amid thunderous cheers.

"That is why the people of Canada stood behind him when war was declared. No other man could have carried this country so unitedly into war."

"That is the reason Canada stood so unitedly behind him on March 26, and why Canada still stands behind him."

"At a time when we are at war and at a time when Great Britain desires the friendship of the United States more perhaps than she desires the friendship of any other country, is there any one in Canada who would approve having at the head of the government a man not friendly to the United States?"

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F., Roseville, Sask., acting leader of his group, got the floor during the uproar of applause for Mr. Gardiner.

"I am wondering," Mr. Coldwell said, "if there is a war on or not. I am wondering what the men overseas would think of this exhibition."

He was interrupted by Conservative cheers.

"My friends say 'Hear, hear,'" Mr. Coldwell continued. "Let me remind them that whether we of the opposition like it or not, the Prime Minister, two months ago, received from the people the greatest endorsement ever given a leader in Canada. This is a democratic country and by that decision we must abide."

Mr. Coldwell contended that before Canada mobilized her manpower, she should mobilize her resources. He urged that a refunding scheme should be instituted now, before it became more difficult by the issuing of large quantities of new bonds.

5TH COLUMN CHARGE

Charging a Conservative member with "sabotaging" Canada's war effort, Hon. C. G. Power, Air Minister, pointed his finger at the official opposition and declared the justice minister should "inform that fifth column over there."

H. R. Adamson, Conservative, West York, Ont., provoked the outburst when he said he had information that Blenheim bombers being manufactured in Montreal were obsolete and their use in war had caused heavy casualties.

"Will the honorable gentleman, on his responsibility as a member of Parliament, state that Blenheim bombers being produced in Canada are obsolete?" Mr. Power asked.

Mr. Adamson, amid great uproar, said he was merely seeking information.

"Who wants the information?" asked a member.

"Hitler," another member replied.

Mr. Power repeated his question, but Mr. Adamson said again he was only seeking information.

"Then I charge my honorable friend with sabotage of Canada's war effort," Mr. Power declared.

Mr. Power repeated again, later, that such use of rumors as that by Mr. Adamson "is derogatory to Canada's war effort, and is sabotage."

Earlier, Mr. Adamson had become entangled with Hon. J. L. Ralston, Finance Minister, when he referred to "alarming reports" that the Bren gun contract was not working satisfactorily, causing "great unrest."

Col. Ralston referred the member to a statement earlier this week by Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Defence, that Bren gun plant production would be ahead of schedule. If there was such unrest over false rumors, he said, Mr. Adamson was not improving the situation by repeating the rumors in Parliament.

VENEZUELA OIL MEN PAY VISIT TO CITY

Barred from returning to Europe owing to the war, two British officials of the Shell Oil Company, Maracaibo, Venezuela, came to Victoria to spend their holidays. They are E. D. Stonely, accountant, and W. M. Oakley, tanker supervisor, guests at the Empress Hotel following a Vancouver Island tour.

When Mr. Stonely, who had had several years' military experience, volunteered to return to England for service after the outbreak of war, he was told to remain at his post as the oil industry was a most valuable adjunct to the successful prosecution of the war.

All the crude oil produced in the Venezuelan fields is shipped through Curacao, the Dutch West Indies possession which has been occupied by the British since the invasion of the Netherlands by the Nazis. A million tons of oil is produced monthly in the Venezuelan field, vital to the Allies, says Mr. Stonely.

RED PATCH SEEN ON C.A.S.F. CARS

ALDERSHOT (CP)—The red square, identifying patch of the vanguard of Canada's legions made famous in the battles of the last war, has been revived in modified form by the 1st Division of the Dominion's modern army. The new crest, which shows a maple leaf of gold superimposed on a scarlet field, made its first appearance yesterday on the fenders of all divisional vehicles of the Canadian training area. Use of the insignia will be temporarily confined to transports pending consultation with unit commanders regarding its appropriateness as a shoulder patch for the troops.

A partial canvass indicates the consensus favors the crest already adopted for the vehicles with the possible inclusion of "Canada" worked in gold above the maple leaf. Identifying patches for the four divisions of the Canadian Corps in the first Great War were plain oblong pieces of colored cloth sewn on the shoulders of the tunics. Infantry also wore brigade identification patches above the divisional patches. The 1st Division wore red patches, the 2nd blue, the 3rd grey and the 4th black.

LATE MAY RAINS FINE FOR CROPS

The Native Sons of Canada, at their meeting last night, asked that "armchair generals, colonels and other amateur strategists" instead of using newspaper space to criticize the national government and defence officials, employ their time and energy "in one or more of the many patriotic organizations and endeavors which are now clamoring for willing workers."

Members felt such work would be much more to the advantage of Canada and the British Commonwealth than continual criticism. The resolution also said that, in time of war, it was not in the best interests of the warring nation to broadcast to all and sundry campaign plans, which could be used to good advantage of Fifth Columnists.

Busy on Rhine

BASEL, Switzerland (AP)—French troops in the Maginot Line shot hundreds of parachute flares over toward the German bank of the Rhine last night and tried to pick off trench-digging Nazi sappers revealed in the glare as the front along the Rhine showed increasing war activity.

Canadian Casualties

TORONTO (CP)—Norman Millard has been advised by cable from London that his son, Douglas, 19, was killed in action May 21 in France while fighting with the British forces.

The youth was in England with his mother and younger brother at the outbreak of war and enlisted with an artillery unit.

CALGARY (CP)—Pilot Officer Douglas W. W. Morris, R.A.F., was killed in action May 21, according to word received from London by his parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. C. W. Morris, Calgary.

Earlier Dr. Morris had received a cable saying his son was missing.

Allied Guns Guard Mediterranean as Italy Moves

The Allies are keeping a wary eye on the Mediterranean as Italy, poised for days on the brink of war, appears likely to plunge into the conflict soon. Capitulation by King Leopold of the Belgians has heightened war fervor in Italy, and troops are reported jamming cities in northern Italy. The press continues its pro-German outbursts, and rumors are general that Mussolini's conference with his council of ministers might be the signal for his entry into the war after keeping the world in prolonged suspense. This photograph, made from the deck of a British battleship, shows two French battleships in the harbor at Alexandria, where the Allied fleet concentrated before taking up unannounced positions preparatory to any move on Italy's part.

Dutch Troops Rescued by British Destroyer

The story of a detachment of Dutch troops who went out of the frying pan and into the fire to be ultimately rescued by a British destroyer is told in the graphic photos above. The Dutch soldiers had evacuated a section of the coast of Holland in the face of German attack. But the boat in which they were headed for safety was bombed by German aircraft and sunk. After hours bobbing about on a few rafts, the Hollanders were rescued by a British destroyer. At right two Dutch soldiers, one still wearing his steel helmet, are shown, clinging to the side of a raft. Left, the raft alongside the destroyer as the men were taken aboard; another man in shown (circle) awaiting rescue.

ALLIES' FLYING COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF—Defying enemy ground fire and attacking planes, Allied Commander-in-Chief Maxime Weygand (left) has twice flown over the fighting lines in Europe to size up the military situation from the air. When he took over the command he flew from the rear east in perilous weather, which resulted in damage to his plane. Now reported massing troops for a mighty onslaught against the German lines, Weygand is seen here leaving a conference at the Elysee Palace in Paris with Paul Baudoin (centre), secretary-general of France's war committee, and Premier Paul Reynaud (right).

HOW TANKS DISGORGE STREAMS OF FLAMING DEATH—A thin white stream of liquid, flaming death, throwing up a dense pall of black smoke, pours from an Italian tank flame-thrower on recent manoeuvres. French say Nazis have rushed hundreds of similar flame-throwing tanks, their drivers swathed in asbestos, into Flanders, firing every third building. Recently Nazi officer hinted that flame-thrower with 2,000 deg. C. heat was Hitler's "secret weapon," capable of melting Maginot.

SOLDIER-COWBOYS HERD CATTLE—French soldiers rounding up abandoned cattle in northern France. Hundreds of animals like these, left behind when owners fled before German advances, are herded out of combat areas to distribution centre.

A CLOSE CALL—An alert photographer aboard the British destroyer Ardent, caught this explosion as a bomb dropped close to the ship during the naval and aerial action off the Norwegian coast at Harstad. (Passed by British Censor).

HITLER'S THREAT AT ENGLAND—Compact, fast, torpedo-carrying speedboats like that pictured above may be used to transport Nazi troops, if Hitler tries to cross the Channel. These boats are said to be capable of 45 to 60 knots. Torpedo tube; are shown on forward deck. Great Britain has a great fleet of similar vessels which would undoubtedly be used against the Heine mosquitoes.

BRITISH AIRMEN WINNING FAME OVER EUROPE—Many times fighting against great odds, but with unexampled bravery and determination, the fliers of the R.A.F. have achieved remarkable success in clashes with enemy airmen. Harassing troop movements, bombing German military concentrations, lines of communication and fuel dumps, the R.A.F. have played a conspicuous part in the war. Here is a group of high-spirited pilot officers, photographed on French soil at 9 a.m. after they had been up since 5 that day. They took a heavy toll before breakfast.

HYDE PARK'S FENCES GO TO MELTING POT—To meet the incessant demand for metal and more metal to fill the melting pots of war, British workmen tear down an iron railing in London's famed Hyde Park for the materials of battle.

TOMMIES' TEMPORARY COMFORTS—A mattress and some bits of furniture made this British patrol comfortable as they rested in this littered Louvain street. This photo was made before the Allied troops were withdrawn from the city.

VICTORIAN WINS

W. J. Davey of Victoria today held the Eugene Church Memorial Trophy, grand award of the Northwest Federation of Stamp Clubs staging its annual exhibition in Vancouver.

The Victoria collector won the trophy yesterday with his exhibition of Hawaiian stamps. With the cup goes an oil painting, given by A. F. Iichtenstein, noted New York philatelist.

Col. J. F. Keen of Vancouver with an exhibit of British Empire stamps won the Lieutenant-Governor's award.

The four-day exhibition, attended by stamp collectors from British Columbia, Washington and Oregon, who are showing stamps worth more than $500,000, was opened yesterday by Hon. Gordon Wismer, provincial Attorney-General.

Police Frustrate Escape Attempt

City police this morning stopped an attempted break for freedom by Mrs. W. A. Whitehead who was sentenced to five months yesterday on a charge of obtaining money and goods by false pretenses. This morning she was arraigned on a second charge of obtaining money by false pretenses and remanded until Saturday when she pleaded not guilty.

As she was leaving the courtroom in custody of Police Matron Alice Pye, to be returned to the cell block, the young woman bolted out the front door of police headquarters.

Miss Pye took after her and both fell on the cement sidewalk at the station entrance.

Mrs. Whitehead picked herself up and sped towards Chinatown. Detective Henry Jarvis and Constable Ray Maitland joined the chase.

Past Government Street, on Fisgard, the officers caught and Detective Jarvis finally caught her in Chinese premises in an alley off Fisgard Street.

On her return to the station Mrs. Whitehead was treated for minor bruises she received in the fall.

Miss Pye suffered knee bruises.

May Weather

May was a month of warm, sunny days, with just enough rain to give splendid growth to the gardens and farms.

Last night's rain was a boon to the strawberry crop, just nearing its climax in the fields of Saanich. It aided also the city boulevards, which are dry and parched, and delighted amateur gardeners, who were able to give their hoses a rest.

According to the monthly weather report released this morning at the Dominion Meteorological Observatory on Gonzales Hill, the mean temperature for May was 56 degrees, which was three degrees above normal. Maximum temperature was 79, on May 29; minimum was 44, on May 3 and May 26, and minimum on the grass was 33 degrees, on May 27.

Rainfall for the month totaled 1.34 inches, which was .38 of an inch above normal. Total precipitation so far this year is 10.91 inches, which is 1.03 inches below average.

Sunshine in May amounted to 285 hours, which was seven hours above normal.

Windows Must Have Safety Devices

Window cleaners who swing out high over the sidewalks to wash the panes of business buildings are required by law to wear safety belts and owners of buildings are required to have the sills equipped with safety devices, provincial Labor Department officials explained this morning.

The regulation is laid down by the Workmen's Compensation Board and specifies a maximum penalty of $50 for infractions.

Following is the text of the regulation:

"All buildings in which the sills of windows are located more than 10 feet above ground or adjoining flat roof shall be provided with safety devices for the protection of window cleaners when windows are cleaned from the sill.

"Safety belts shall be used by workmen and ring-bolts of bronze or other approved durable metal at least one-half inch in diameter, for holding the safety belts, shall be firmly and permanently fastened to both sides of all windows.

In wooden window frames through bolts shall be used with nuts and washers on the inside. "Fittings and anchorages shall be periodically tested, with particular care in the case of wooden window frames."

The question of paying compensation to a workman injured because safety devices have not been used lies largely within the discretion of the Compensation Board, it was pointed out. For instance a workman would not be penalized if there were no ring-bolts on a window. If, however, he was injured through his own failure to use a safety belt he might come under the clause of the compensation act which states:

"Where the injury is attributable solely to the serious and wilful misconduct of the workman no compensation shall be payable unless the injury results in death or serious disablement."

Meetings of several Chamber of Commerce groups are scheduled for Monday. The junior chamber will hold a luncheon meeting at the Sidney Rubber Roofing Company and at 4 in the afternoon the senior directors will meet. The contact committee of the senior chamber and Saanich Board of Trade connected with Saanich Strawberry Week will meet at 3:30, and the drill team committee of the chamber's tourist trade group will meet at 4:30.

War Saving Drive Starts Next Week

Victoria's war savings campaign, enlisting the financial support of all members of the community for the country in its war effort, will be in full swing by the end of the next week, F. E. Winslow, Victoria member of the provincial executive, reported today, following a conference with provincial leaders in Vancouver this week.

At the Vancouver gathering the Victoria leader met Chris Spencer, provincial chairman for British Columbia of the war savings committee; Eric V. Chown, provincial assistant on the national advisory committee, and other men who have undertaken organization of the drive in this province.

Approximately 50 life insurance managers attended the meeting, pledging their support and vouching voluntary assistance in drawing up the Employer-Employee Co-operative Plan, under which firms throughout British Columbia will make specified deductions from salary cheques of the employees upon their consent.

The set-up for that scheme will be arranged from Ottawa, with employers canvassing their staffs for support before the deductions are made. Those participating by purchasing war savings certificates will be granted 34 per cent on their money.

INSURANCE MEN KEEN

"The insurance leaders in Vancouver are keen to go ahead on the scheme and feel confident they will meet a ready response," Mr. Winslow stated.

Committees in Victoria will be organized under the leadership of the Chamber of Commerce, with Mayor McGavin and Reeves of the surrounding municipalities sitting as ex-officio members of the executive.

The framework of the organization will be broad enough to take in representatives of social agencies, churches, banks, retail outlets, labor and women's groups.

The general committee will set up subdivisions to care for speakers, sales promotion, publicity to workers, departments required in the intensive campaign scheduled for the duration of the war.

"The federal government is anxious that all sections of the community should assist it through the war savings campaign to provide funds for the prosecution of the war. Judging from opinions expressed here and in Vancouver, the drive is assured of enthusiastic public support," Mr. Winslow said.

Organization of committees and subcommittees will be carried out next week by Duncan MacBride, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and his assistants.

On Thursday Mr. Spencer and Mr. Chown will attend a special dinner meeting in Spencer's dining room at 6:15 to outline the campaign and make full explanations to workers. Lieutenant Governor Hamber, who has lent his patronage to the campaign, is expected to attend.

The evening meeting will follow an afternoon session, at which Mr. Spencer and Mr. Chown will meet local insurance managers to enlist their support.

As representative of the up-island centres, Robert Filberg, Courtenay, a member of the provincial executive, will also be present at the meeting, with presidents of Nanaimo, Courtenay and Port Alberni Boards of Trade.

STRAWBERRIES AT LOWEST PRICES

Local strawberries are now moving in volume, and wholesaler expect no further reduction in prices this season. If prices should drop, growers will ship the fruit in barrels. Rain in the next two or three days will cause a shortage on the local market.

Winesap and Delicious apples are now the only two varieties left. Gooseberries are plentiful, and prices are reasonable.

The last shipment of California new potatoes and Imperial Valley grapefruit arrived today and yesterday.

A new shipment of watermelons arrived here yesterday. Prices are reasonable, and high grade melons are on sale.

Argument Heard In $3,000 Suit

Argument of counsel was started this morning on the Supreme Court action before Mr. Justice Robertson, in which Leonard W. Stephenson is suing members of the Brentwood Bay Parks Board for $3,000 for the tearing down of his boathouse at Brentwood.

J. B. Clearhue, K.C., appearing for the parks board members and the Provincial Government, claimed the plaintiff's building was erected on Crown property and therefore became part of the property over which the board had jurisdiction. It was a nuisance because it obstructed the right of the public to pass over the foreshore, and the board had powers to abate the nuisance, he contended.

Stuart Henderson and F. C. Elliott appear for the plaintiff.

British Ready to Meet Any Invasion Attempt

LONDON (CP)—Britons turned their island home into a formidable fortress today and authorities said they were ready to resist any threatened German invasion from across the English Channel.

With the possibility of direct attack brought nearer by the withdrawal of large British expeditionary forces from Channel ports, people gave increasing attention to possible fifth column activities. From some quarters came the demand that General Sir Edmund Ironside be given plenary powers to co-ordinate military and civilian defenses.

Under martial law if necessary, to make sure that parachutists could find no effective help within the country Scotland yard pressed a hunt for fifth column equipment, arms, ammunition and uniforms.

Along the Thames they went through every warehouse in the vast system of docks and stores. Furniture stored by refugees was carefully searched.

An undisclosed number of arrests was made in several districts of London. The prisoners, fifth column suspects, will be interned for the duration.

Vice-Admiral Sir James Somerville assured the nation in a radio address that defences were ready for any attempted landing whether from the sea or air.

Sir John Anderson, the Home Secretary, warned there was "every prospect of an early call on the civil defence forces" and urged them all to keep "fully manned, in a state of readiness and efficiency."

The Ministry of Health said Britain's "front line" areas along the east and southeast coasts probably would have to be broadened, necessitating withdrawal of a large number of children to safer districts.

The ministry warned that the government felt "the risk of early bombing is so real that they must now make as complete as possible plans for the evacuation of children."

The government moved to increased armaments production by taking a census of all machinery in industry to see that it is employed to full capacity.

In a broadcast Sir Neville Bland, British minister to the Netherlands who witnessed the beginning of the German invasion of that country, warned Nazi parachutists and fifth columnists could do a great deal of damage in a direct attack on the British Isles.

He called for further protective measures against the parachute menace, declaring the Nazis might have captured the Netherlands in 24 hours if authorities in the invaded country had not taken extreme precautions.

There are countless places in England where men and guns could be landed," he said. "Be defiant with any person connected with the Germans or even

Due to Plunge Without Warning?

ROME (AP)—Most observers confronted with reports from Berlin that Adolf Hitler was planning an announcement which might deal with Italy's role in the war predicted today that Italy would lash out without warning when she decided to strike for her aspirations.

Few expected any sort of declaration of war, although the general expectancy that Italy soon would enter the conflict centred attention on a cabinet meeting called next Tuesday by Premier Mussolini to discuss "important matters."

Newspaper posters screamed the theme that British and French resistance was doomed and that therefore it is useless to think Italy might desert Germany for the Allies in the 11th hour.

Go Home From Paris

PARIS (AP)—Italian journalists are leaving Paris today, a spokesman for the ministry of information said. He added that although this did not mean "inevitable" war with Italy, it was possible the Italians would enter the fight within the next 10 days.

ITALY AND U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Reports that Premier Mussolini of Italy has told President Roosevelt that Italy intends to keep her pledges and aid Germany were neither confirmed nor denied at the White House today.

Asked whether Mussolini had so informed the President, Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said he could only repeat there had been an almost "continual correspondence carried on between the President and heads of other governments."

Hobbs Glass Co. Comes to City

ger will be Ernest L. Keyes, from Vancouver, who has been in the glass business for 20 years.

Hobbs' officials said yesterday that Victoria was a good place for the company to locate, and were optimistic about future prospects here.

Mellor Brothers will continue their painting and decorating business from the same address. The firm was started by J. W. Mellor in 1887 and George Mellor came to Victoria three years later, having now completed 50 years as a paint and glass dealer in this city.

Island Rayon Project Revived
A project to build a big rayon mill at Campbell River and harness the water power of the river has been revived since the outbreak of war, it is said in government circles.

Possibilities of financing the plan are reportedly being discussed by Canadian and U.S. interests.

The scheme, which would call for an expenditure of $10,000,000, has been mooted here on several occasions previously but has never amounted to anything definite.

Renewed interest in the project is said to be due to disruption of rayon production in Europe because of the war, creating more market opportunities.

The glass business of Mellor Brothers Limited, 819 Broughton Street, oldest paint and glass dealers on the Pacific Coast, has been taken over by Hobbs Glass Limited Canada, it was announced yesterday, by George Mellor, managing director.

Hobbs Glass Limited is a Dominion-wide concern, with headquarters at London, Ont., and has had a branch in Vancouver for the past 17 years. They have taken over the existing glass premises of Mellor Brothers at 825 Broughton Street, and will operate a Victoria branch there.

A modern mirror and glass showroom will be established, and the company will specialize in modern store front construction. All the present glass services of Mellor Brothers will also be continued here.

The transfer is the result of a visit to Victoria of C. F. Wood, president of the Hobbs Company, two months ago, when he was impressed with the business opportunities of this city. Company officials from London and Vancouver completed arrangements with Mr. Mellor yesterday, and alterations to the premises are already under way.

READY IN 10 DAYS
The new branch will function immediately and it is expected that the showrooms will be ready in about 10 days. The local manager will be Ernest L. Keyes, from Vancouver, who has been in the glass business for 20 years.

Destroyed Plants To Be Rebuilt

VANCOUVER (CP)—Owners of Benson's Shipyard and Union Boat Works, destroyed in a disastrous $100,000 waterfront blaze Monday night, announce that the two marine plants will be rebuilt immediately.

A check-up on the condition of the charred 60-foot seiner Adriatic 1, burned on the ways at Union Boat Works, showed that the damage was not as extensive as first believed.

All the auxiliary machinery and inside equipment is intact and untouched by the flames that burned off the vessel's house and charred the hull.

Await French Crews

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Coastwise freighters once operated by the McCormick Steamship Company awaited today the arrival of French Line officers and seamen.

The ships, transferred to French registry, are the Brookings, now called the Alencon, and the Wallingford, renamed Li-moges. Two other McCormick vessels, the West Planter and Munari, are at drydock ready to be placed in French service.

Waterfront sources understood the officers and seamen would be supplied by the French liner Normandie. One group of seamen passed through St. Paul today en route to Portland.

R. W. McMurray, manager of the B.C. Coast Service.

A Heroine of Wartime Nursing

V—WORK IN THE CRIMEA

Each day Florence Nightingale tried to find new ways to make nursing better at the big hospital in Turkey. She carried out plan after plan, and at length her work began to tell.

The fearful death rate was cut down. It stood at 427 out of each thousand soldiers in the month of February, 1855, but two months later it was down to 107 per thousand. The next month, June, it was only 22 per thousand!

In a crude ambulance she rode back to the hospital with wounded men.

We cannot say that changes in nursing brought about all that saving in life, but certainly they brought a great deal of it. News of the work was published in British newspapers, and Florence Nightingale was hailed as a heroine.

People in Great Britain and other lands sent gifts of money for use in hospital work. From New Zealand came a sum amounting to $5,000, and from Australia a gift of $8,500. The great nurse also used some of her own money for the cause.

The famous poem, "Charge of the Light Brigade," was written about an event in the Crimean War.

After spending six months in the hospitals in Turkey, Florence Nightingale decided to go closer to the scene of action. She crossed the Black Sea and landed in the Crimea.

In the Crimea she took up her work of nursing once more. Among her patients were some who suffered from "Crimean fever."

Sometimes she went out on the battlefields after the fighting was over. In a crude "ambulance" she rode back to the hospital with wounded men.

The day came when she, herself, became sick. It was a case of Crimean fever, and she was placed in a small hut near the army hospital. The best possible care was given to her. Word of her illness was sent quickly to Great Britain, and the people at home were deeply worried.

If Florence Nightingale had died of that illness, her death would have been mourned far and wide. As it turned out, she grew well again, and did more work for the soldiers.

After the war ended she went back to England and carried on splendid work. Among the things she did was to start a training school for nurses in her own country. More than any other woman, she is to be given honor for the present system of careful training for nurses.

Florence Nightingale lived to the age of 90. Her death took place in 1910.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a young man of 18. Have been going out with a girl three years' senior. I thought I was very much in love with her, but now find that I cannot spend an evening with her without getting nervous and cranky.

I have tried every way to break away from her, but she refuses to let me go. I quit going to see her. Wouldn't answer the phone when she called me. Her sister tried to get me back by telling me that the girl was under a doctor's care, and about to lose her mind because I had broken with her. But I found out that this was just a ruse to try to get me back.

I have always treated this girl as a gentleman should, and it isn't my fault that I am tired of her. What should I do? Continue to see her and make the best of it, or what? How would you suggest that I can get out of this mess that I have gotten myself into. JIM.

Answer—Well, Jim, the old adage, "Absence of body is better than presence of mind in times of danger," is never so true as when a man is pursued by a woman who is determined to get him.

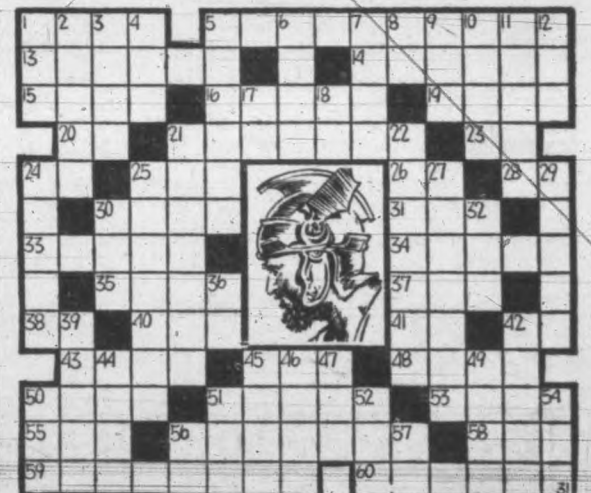

So the easiest way out for you is to take to the tall timber, where you cannot be reached by telephone or mail, or have her run you down and weep on your breast and tell you how she is dying for love of you.

If flight is impossible, then just stiffen your backbone and stand your ground and refuse to listen to her reproaches or to be moved by her entreaties.

It takes a lot of strength and courage to do this. For we are all just pushovers for those who flatter us and run after us, and many a man marries the girl he doesn't want to marry just because he hasn't the nerve to say "no" to any one who admires him so much.

JOE BURK WINS

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Burk of Bridgeboro, N.J., world amateur sculling champion, won the senior singles shell title in the New York Rowing Association's metropolitan championship regatta on the Hudson River yesterday.

Burk sped over the mile course in 5.07, leading Joe Augval of Long Island City, N.Y., by three lengths.

—four to their current opponents, Oakland A's—to fall into the lowest spot they have held since they took over last place five weeks ago.

By losing two games by identical 4 to 3 scores to Oakland yesterday, Portland trailed Seattle by 10 games.

Two right-hand pitchers led Seattle to its twin victory over Hollywood 2 to 0 and 4 to 3. Hal Turpin shut out the Stars with three hits in the opener and Les Webber helped win the second by some effective base running.

Sacramento took the first 3 to 2 and San Francisco the second 1 to 0.

Los Angeles won the first game from San Diego 8 to 2 last night, but the second game ended in a 3 to 2 tie when it was called at the end of the sixth because of the time limit.

Brown in Fast Marathon Run

SALISBURY BEACH, Mass. (AP)—Ellison (Tarzan) Brown, the Western, R.I. Indian, ran the fastest marathon of all time yesterday while outdistancing Johnny Kelley of Arlington and 51 other rivals in the fourth annual Lawrence-to-the-Sea race.

Brown was about 300 yards ahead of Kelley, runner-up in this event for the third straight year, when he completed the 26 miles 385 yards in 2 hours 27 minutes 29.35 seconds.

That time was 59 seconds under the previous marathon record that Gerard Cote of St. Hyacinthe, Que., established last month in the Boston A.A. race, and 5 minutes and 14.45 seconds faster than the course record made last year by the late Pat Dengis.

Cote was one of yesterday's starters and he finished fifth in 2:40. Kelley was timed in 2:28:18. Don Heinicke of Baltimore and Leslie Pawson of Pawtucket, R.I., placed third and fourth.
